

Hazardous waste incidents prompt seminar here

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

A two-day training session on the handling of hazardous materials will take place Sept. 24 and Sept. 25 at the Granite City Army Installation.

The program is being offered by the Granite City Police Department in conjunction with the Granite City Fire Department, the Emergency Services and Disaster Agency of Granite City (Civil Defense), the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad and the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center (TSARCON), the local Army facility.

A complete freight train and various types of trucks will be moved on to the installation grounds for practical instructional purposes, it was learned.

The seminar will deal with all aspects of identifying, isolating, fire fighting and the safe handling and disposal of hazardous materials which may be spilled either from a rail carrier, truck transportation or water transportation (barge), according to Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

Incidents involving hazardous materials of all descriptions are appearing more frequently in the nation's press.

Among the news items seen in the last two weeks:

A leaking propane storage tank forcing a six-hour evacuation of 1,500 of DuQuoin's 6,700 residents on Labor Day. The ruins of an industrial complex continuing to burn Aug. 28 in Chicago's

Explosions, train, truck wrecks demonstrate need of training to combat danger in area largest fire in 13 years and firefighters being ordered to put on breathing apparatus after it was learned that more than 2,000 drums of noxious chemicals may be buried in the ruins.

The previous day, Aug. 27, a large bomb, placed by an extortionist at a Lake Tahoe resort hotel, exploded and blew a two-to-three story hole in the building while an attempt was being made to disarm the device.

Leakages from tank cars and storage containers continue, despite new regulations and increased vigilance by environmental health-safety authorities, between 150 and 200 persons from Madison and St. Clair counties, who provide emergency services to the public, are expected to attend the two-day program.

Invitations have been sent to appropriate agencies and a Sept. 19 registration deadline has been set, Chief Veizer said.

Participation is limited, Chief Veizer said.

Presentations during the seminar will be made by representatives from the U.S. Coast Guard, Illinois State Police, U.S. Army 50th Ordnance Detachment, generally known as the "bomb disposal squad."

The trucking industry, Port Authority and Lockmaster of Lock 24, Emergency Services and Disaster Agency and St. Elizabeth Medical Center, whose emergency personnel will review the center's plans for handling disasters in the local area.

Briefings for equipment demonstration and on-site observation and actual training with the equipment are planned on Sept. 24.

On the same day, slide programs and films will be shown, including "Handling Leaks in Tank Cars," "Indirect Method of Fire Fighting" and "Vital First Minutes."

Key personnel from the various resource organizations will make their presentations Sept. 25.

The program on both days will start at 8 a.m.

There will be no fee for the seminar, Chief Veizer said.

However, lunch will be served at the Army facility on a "dutch treat" basis at a nominal fee to be paid by each individual, he noted.

IT HEARS WHAT YOU DON'T. The finger pointing at a psychological stress evaluator could be pointing accusingly at you, if you try to beat the machine now used by Granite City police to separate truth from lies. The machine "listens" through a microphone to the inaudible sounds of persons speaking (the air not used by the vocal cords during speech) and detects signs of stress, such as the stress created by telling a lie.

'Voice analyzer' new tool in police work; helps officers determine truth

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

"That machine is so good that it should not be allowed to be used in a police department," is how one young man described the psychological stress evaluator (PSE) which just caught him in a lie at Granite City Police Department.

The PSE has become "a very valuable tool to our investigators," Chief of Detectives Capt. Robert Astorjian told the Press-Record as he and Detective Tony Eck demonstrated the $4,400 voice analyzer Friday. The machine was purchased for the police department by the Granite City Rotary Club.

The Dektor Counter Intelligence Agency developed the PSE used by the police department to analyze taped answers to questions. The machine measures the inaudible part of the voice—the flow of excess air not used to vibrate the vocal chords—rather than using the audible portion of the voice, Eck explained.

Stress can be detected in graphs the machine makes by using a heated stylus, which draws on heat-sensitive paper.

Eck and Astorjian have been trained in reading the graphs and lines to find areas of stress. "Certain groups of lines indicate stress, which frequently indicates a lie. Diagonal, domed or blocking forms show stress. If there is no such pattern, the lack of the pattern indicates little stress in answering a question," Eck explained.

How does the machine "stack up" when compared to the conventional polygraph (lie detector machine), which identifies stress through physical reactions?

Eck said the PSE and the lie detector will reach the same conclusions 95 percent of the time. Courts have put the evidence gathered by lie detectors and PSE machines in the same category and gives them equal weight.

That decision came late last year when the court ruled to legalize use of the machines in the case of the Illinois Polygraph Society versus Anthony Pellicano.

Pellicano operated a private firm in the Chicago area which used a PSE machine for security checks, interviewing candidates for jobs and other uses.

The Illinois Polygraph Society, sensing that its PSEs could make polygraphs outdated, filed suit against Pellicano and obtained an injunction making it temporarily illegal to use PSE machines. The injunction provided that anyone using such a machine could be charged with a Class A misdemeanor.

The Granite City police then had to put their new PSE "in the closet," literally. The case was resolved late in 1979 and PSEs were legalized.

Restrictions have been imposed to keep the PSEs from being used to invade individual privacy or to secretly investigate someone.

Before any tape can be analyzed, the person making the tape has to sign a permission slip, as well as a form indicating he has read his legal rights.

Other uses are illegal, except when analyzing an anonymous caller's voice, Eck explained.

Any tape recording can be analyzed, even from a telephone, he indicated, but it is policy of the police department never to use the machine for a voice analysis without the written permission of the person whose voice is being analyzed, the detective added.

The PSE has been very valuable to the police department in saving time and it eliciting numerous con-

Find no danger from chemicals at foundry fire

Although the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is still checking, local officials say their studies have concluded there is no danger to health from chemicals involved in the July 14 fire at American Steel Foundries.

The fire was in the capacitor room of the foundry and involved capacitors which contain dangerous polychlorinated biphenyls (PCB). PCBs are toxic to fish and wildlife and can cause liver damage and other problems in humans.

The units were scheduled to be replaced with capacitors which did not contain the PCBs, but the replacement had not taken place when the fire occurred, city officials were told.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward asked at the last city council meeting if there is any danger to residents of Granite City from PCBs which may have escaped during the fire, either through the air or on the ground.

Paula Case, head of the city's air pollution control department, promised to investigate the incident and she concluded her report Friday, giving the city "a clean bill of health" on the PCB question.

Mrs. Case said air monitoring since the fire has shown no signs of PCBs in the air, and wastewater testing by Terrence McMillan, head of the city's sewage treatment plant, showed no signs of PCBs or phenyls in the water or sewage.

Occupational Health and Safety Act (OSHA) inspectors from the federal government examined the plant and reported there were no signs of PCBs inside the American Steel facilities, Mrs. Case said.

The conclusion of the three studies was that all PCBs were incinerated in the fire. "I find it credible to believe that they were entirely incinerated; there is no real reason to be concerned in the present or in the future," Mrs. Case said.

The federal EPA still is studying, "just to be sure nothing was overlooked," Mrs. Case added.

Hearing on rezoning for Moose lodge

The Granite City Plan Commission and Board of Appeals will meet next week to discuss several zoning matters, including a request by Moose Lodge 272 for rezoning on Maryville Road for a new lodge.

The Plan Commission will consider the Moose request at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 18, in the city council chambers of city hall. The club is requesting annexation of property south of the city limits and north of Lake School, along Maryville Road, and rezoning which would allow the club to construct a new lodge building. The Plan Commission also is to consider a request by State Loan & Savings for C-1 commercial zoning at 3802-3804 Nameoki Road, across from Schnuck's Market, for possible future construction of a second savings & loan facility.

A spokesman for State Loan & Savings said there are no immediate plans for construction, but the association would like to reserve the property, with C-1 commercial zoning, for possible construction "somewhere down the line."

An unusual request, a change from commercial zoning to residential zoning for 3708 Nameoki Road and the rear of 3712 Nameoki Road, also is to be considered. Boris Elleff is requesting that the properties be rezoned from C-2 commercial to R-2 for single-family residential use.

Also on the agenda of the Plan Commission is a request from Mickey Loftus, 3800 Buxton Ave., requesting C-1 commercial zoning, rather than the present non-conforming use zoning, for operation of a restaurant. The building recently has been used by an upholstery firm.

A request by Cecil Simpson, 2903 Buxton Ave., for R-4 multiple-family dwelling zoning at 2903 Buxton Ave., for construction of a duplex, also is to be considered by the Plan Commission. Currently, the property is zoned R-3 for single-family residential use.

The Board of Appeals will meet at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 17, in the city council chambers to consider a request by Edwards Rickert, 2501 Lynch Ave., to construct an unattached garage three feet from the side property line. The property is zoned R-1.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER. The fall campaign of the Tri-Cities Area United Way will begin Friday, but employees of the Union Electric plant in Venice have gotten an early start. Miss Torch, Rose Boyd, a UE employee and one of 28 girls selected to represent the United Way in the greater St. Louis area, speaks to one group of workers about the importance of their giving to the United Way. More than 150 employees attended one of six solicitation sessions on Thursday. The UW kick-off breakfast will begin at 7:30 a.m. at the Granite City Township hall.

Area hit by sudden storm

It was a beautiful day Saturday. The temperatures were warm, there was a nice breeze and the U.S. Weather Bureau said there was only a 20 percent chance of rain.

Everything was beautiful until about 8:30 p.m., when the winds began to pick up and ominous clouds appeared over the Quad-City area. The storm then struck suddenly with high winds, lightning, driving rain and hail, in some areas.

Old dry tree limbs were vulnerable to the high winds and at least five limbs fell on power lines, knocking out power to some sections of the city. The first call was at 8:37 p.m. Saturday at 2521 E. 24th St., where a line was down.

Other lines were reported down in the 1300 block of Rhodes Street, the 1200 block of West Pontoon Road, the 2400 block of State Street and the 2500 block of East 23rd St.

By 9:21 p.m. more lines were reported down in the 2600 block of West 22nd Street, the 2400 block of Delmar Avenue, the 4100 block of Old Alton Avenue and the 2700 block of Lincoln Avenue.

Madison police charge 2 men with burglary

Madison police secured warrants Friday charging burglary against two men, who were taken into custody early Friday morning in connection with an incident at 111-Pac Coast Transportation Co., 1601 Market St., Madison.

Charged with burglary in informational documents issued through the Madison County State's Attorney's office, Edwardsville, are Aaron L. Wuehler, 21, of 2878 Iowa St., and Alan B. Konneman, 17, of 1547 Second St., Madison.

Wuehler was released from custody on a recognizance bond at 5 p.m. Friday.

Konneman, whose bond was set at $2,500, was transferred to Madison County Jail at 6 a.m. Saturday.

Officers went to the trucking company at 12:35 a.m. Friday after receiving a report that two men had opened an overhead garage door at the firm and gone inside.

Upon arriving there, the officers found the overhead doors were closed, but alleged three boxes of tools were laying in an alley next to the building.

A padlock securing the chain link fence was open and a side door to the building also was open.

The owner, Gerald Moss, was notified and the premises were searched without anyone being found.

Inside the building, police said an ice making machine and an upright fan had been knocked over and time sheets and other papers were thrown on the floor.

The boxes of tools in the alley were identified by Moss as belonging to the firm. He said an inventory would be taken to determine if other items were missing.

Police went back to the scene premises at 2:20 a.m. Friday when it was learned one of the suspects may have returned.

They arrested Wuehler, who allegedly implicated a second person.

Officers then went to the Second Street address and took Konneman into custody.

Pedestrian hit, motorist flees

Larry White Jr., 16, of 1024a Rodgers St., Granite City, was injured when struck by an auto, which fled the scene, as he was hitchhiking in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue at 9:30 p.m. Saturday.

The youth was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center with lacerations to the right wrist and arm and an injury to the right thigh. He was released after treatment.

White told the Madison police the vehicle that struck him was a maroon colored Monte Carlo Chevrolet, traveling north on Madison Avenue.

The youth was standing in the northbound lanes when hit and the driver of the auto continued on without stopping, he said.

Arrest 2 after shots are fired

Two youths were captured, but two others escaped, after three shots were fired at a group in Kirkpatrick Homes at 1:10 a.m. today.

Police officers handling a disturbance call in the 4000 block of Kirkpatrick Homes heard three gunshots from the south end of the housing project and saw a white Thunderbird speed from the area, north toward Nameoki Road.

An officer chased the auto, using the squad car's red lights and siren, but the auto did not stop. A high-speed chase continued to 2814 James Garage, 2814 Nameoki Road, where the Thunderbird turned onto the lot and went east toward the alley.

The vehicle drove over a tire and wheel, placed in the lot to prevent autos from driving from the alley onto the lot. The tire and wheel prevented the Thunderbird from turning into the alley, so the driver stopped the auto and he and a passenger, both black males, fled on foot.

Two other passengers remained in the car and were apprehended. A search for the driver and the other passenger was unsuccessful.

Police said the ignition of the car had been punched with a license check lamped with a license check from the license plates are registered to a Detroit, Mich., resident.

Police then returned to the 3700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, where statements were taken from several witnesses. They all said the Thunderbird stopped by a group of youths in the housing project and a passenger asked if they could buy some cocaine or drugs.

They were told there were no drug users in the group and someone told the four black men that they should not be in the housing project, the witnesses said.

The four in the car then allegedly became angry, yelled names at the three standing nearby and the auto started to drive away. It stopped, however, backed up and the passenger in the front seat climbed out the window, aimed a pistol over the top of the car and fired three shots at the group.

The auto then sped from the scene and was chased by the nearby police car, the witnesses told officers. The bullets missed those who were standing near where the shots were fired, police were told.

The two passengers arrested in the rear seat of the car were arrested and were charged with aggravated assault. One was identified as Patrick S. Phillips, 17, Centerville, and the other, a 16-year-old East St. Louis boy was booked as a juvenile. His name was not released.

They were lodged in jail and were to be questioned by detectives today to attempt to determine the identities of the two men who fled from the scene.

Man found dead at Union Electric

Norwood E. Whitsett, 21 South St., Belleville, was pronounced dead at 11:50 p.m. Sunday at the Union Electric plant, Venice, by William Sternberg, deputy coroner for Madison County. Death is believed to have been of natural causes, an apparent heart attack.

Mrs. Whitsett called the plant at 11 a.m. to inquire if her husband had arrived at work.

She told Charles Underwood, a Union Electric supervisor, that Mr. Whitsett did not seem himself when he left home for work.

Underwood noted Whitsett had clocked in.

He then went to look for him and found Mr. Whitsett lying face down near the doorway to the plant in the middle section of the electrical plant.

during the storm, but the line did not break under the weight of the limb until later.

In Madison, a power line was snapped down in the 2900 block of McCasland Avenue at 10:13 p.m. Saturday. A portion of the front of a building at 205 Madison Ave., fell onto the sidewalk at 8:35 p.m. Saturday and city workers cleaned up the debris.

After the storm had vented its fury and most Quad-City residents settled down for a quiet night, the excitement was not over at the home of Mayor Paul Schuler, 3237 Newell Drive, who was hosting a fish fry.

Cooking of the fish on an outdoor barbecue grill resumed after the storm, but at 10:40 p.m., the hot grease caught on fire.

Firemen rushed to the mayor's home, but were told on arrival that one of the guests at the party had extinguished the blaze, by pouring a can of liquid on it. An earlier attempt to extinguish the blazing grease with a fire extinguisher had failed, firemen were told.

There was no damage.

'80 Fair for senior citizens

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is planning to "roll out the red carpet" for area senior citizens on Sept. 19 when the 1980 Senior Citizens Fair will be held.

On top this year will be a wide variety of exhibits, displays, entertainment and informational workshops, according to Mary Lou Brown (692-2686), coordinator in the Office of Student Activities.

Activities are scheduled in the University Center from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m., with a coffee reception in Goshen Lounge officially opening the fair's festivities.

In other years, there have been as many as 2,000 older Americans attending the event, and this year's attendance is expected to be about the same.

SIUUE President Earl Lazerson will welcome the senior citizens to the university at a general assembly at 10 a.m. in Meridian Ballroom. Peg R. Blaser, director of the Illinois Department of Aging, will be the keynote speaker. Following the reception and assembly, entertainment and presentations by area senior citizens groups will continue in Goshen Lounge until 3 p.m. These activities will include the performance of kitchen bands, chorus groups, and plays.

A pottery demonstration and exhibits of arts and crafts will be set up at different points inside the Center where the seniors can display their own wares or enjoy the work of others.

Information tables dealing with social services available to the elderly will be open throughout the day on the first floor of the building.

Mini-workshops—sharing information on such topics as street crime, residential burglary, inflation, and other issues that trouble older people—are scheduled on the second floor of the building during the afternoon session.

Hearing tests, provided by the SIUE Speech and Hearing Center, will be conducted on a walk-in basis from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. in Room 2120 of the John S. Rendleman Building.

Glaucoma screenings will be conducted by the St. Louis Eye Foundation and the Edwardsville Lions in a mobile van which will be parked outside the north entrance to the University Center.

Afternoon activities will include dancing in Meridian Ballroom from 1 until 3 p.m. Music will be provided by the Frank Cherry Orchestra.

Several meal options will be available for those spending the day at the fair.

A chicken and dumpling special which may be purchased in the Upper Deck Restaurant will require making advance reservations. A sit-down meal, the chicken and dumpling special will be served at either 11 a.m. or 12:30 p.m.

The menu includes chicken and dumplings, gelatin salad, green beans, fruit cobbler, roll and butter, and beverage for $3.

Box lunches, which include cold fried chicken, slaw, fruit, roll and butter, and beverage, will be available for $2.50. This special will be served in the Indian Rooms located on the lower level of the University Center. Tickets for this special must also be purchased in advance.

For those not making arrangements in advance, food will also be available in the Sub-Meridian Deck area and in the cafeteria. The Deck special includes meat loaf, noodles with gravy, green bean, roll and butter, a fruit cobbler and beverage for $3. Service will begin at 10:30 a.m.

Handbooks for Venice families

Handbooks and special information sheets for the Venice High and Grade Schools will be personally delivered to the homes of students in grades 7-12 by supportive services staff members.

Mrs. Althea Cross, director of Title VI Project MICRO in the Venice district, said the purpose of the visits is to provide an opportunity for staff members to inform parents about services offered by the team members, as well as to explain the rules and regulations of the schools.

Goals of the program are to enrich the knowledge of the target students about the world of work, enhance their self-concept, and improve their daily attendance.

Team members are Mrs. Georgia Falwell and Mrs. Grattana Ponce, counselors; Mrs. Linda Cottrell, human relations specialist; Mrs. Rogers Melford, home and school coordinator; and Mesdames Connie Davis, Charlotte Dilday, Joyce Odum and Beatrice Wigfall.

parent para-professionals and teacher aides.

The team is funded under a grant by the federal government through Title VI of the Educational Amendments of 1978.

The essence of the law was to grant federal aid to school districts eliminating, reducing or preventing minority group isolation and promoting integration.

The Title I and Title VII Districtwide Advisory Council of Venice Community Unit District 3 will meet next Wednesday, Sept. 10, at 1:15 p.m. in the school library, according to Mrs. Dilday, chairman.

Discussion at the meeting will center around final summary reports for the Basic and Pilot Projects for 1979-80. Ideas will be considered for future proposals.

Orientation meetings will be held for this area in Chicago on Sept. 22, she noted.

The next monthly meeting will be held on Oct. 15 at 10 a.m., at which time election of officers will be held for 1980-81.

Burglaries at adjacent homes

Burglaries apparently occurring in late August at adjacent homes were reported to police Thursday evening.

Items missing from the home of Silver Pigg Sr., 2440 Ohio Ave., are valued at more than $1,730 and include two rings worth $400 and $300, three socket sets worth a total of $350, a $59 soldering set, a $50 eight-track tape player with two speakers, a $45 portable radio and a racecar, deer, rabbit and squirrel meat worth $300.

Also taken from that residence were a $75 silver bracelet with silver charms, six necklaces valued at a total of $30, a $20 torque wrench, a cigarette lighter, two cameras and two watches.

From the Pigg mobile camper, the burglar took $100 worth of 5 mm, 30 caliber, shotgun and .22 caliber ammunition and a rifle of unknown value. The intruder broke windows to gain entry to the camper and home.

A broken window also was discovered at the Elizabeth Schertz home, 2438 Ohio Ave., where missing articles totaling $178 value include a dime worth $75, a $39 cart, a $25 lantern, earrings worth $9, luncheon meat and bread valued at $6, a harmonica, a $4 pin, trousers and a hunting knife with a leather sheath.

Police locate burglary loot

Alert police work at 3 a.m. Friday is credited with recovering the loot from two burglaries occurring a few minutes earlier.

Officers at W. 25th Street and Illinois Avenue located a 10-speed bicycle that had been stolen from the storage shed of Wilson Rudd, 2301 Ohio Ave., and an auto stereo, power booster, car radio, fishing rod, camp stove and canvas tent that had been taken from the parked auto of Wallace Smith, 2440 Illinois.

Still missing are three $20 fishing reels stolen from the car.

Two youths earlier ran from the vicinity. They apparently cut a padlock off the shed's door and broke into the auto.

TWO CHARGES FILED
Police filed charges of aggravated assault and disorderly conduct against James M. Schumate, 24, of 2847 Alton Ave., Madison, at 3:05 p.m. Thursday. He is alleged to have inflicted wrist cuts on himself with a knife there after threatening officers, and to have used a jail blanket in attempting to hang himself after being placed in a cell. Following medical treatment, he was returned to the jail.

Homestead exemption expanded

Governor James R. Thompson approved legislation Thursday to extend homestead property tax exemption benefits to a special category of taxpayers omitted from the law previously.

Those now eligible for the $3,000 exemption from real estate tax assessment growth will include those who lease their dwelling and who also pay taxes under their lease but who do not own the land on which the dwelling stands.

"This legislation will clarify the law for local assessors," Thompson said, "who have had some trouble in the past in understanding the intent of the homestead exemption."

It was the intent of the homestead exemption to provide property tax relief for the taxpayer, whether the land on which the dwelling stands is owned by the taxpayer or not.

Existing provisions in the law already contain an identical homestead exemption provision relating to leaseholders who are senior citizens. That will make the state policy on homestead exemptions consistent for all leased property.

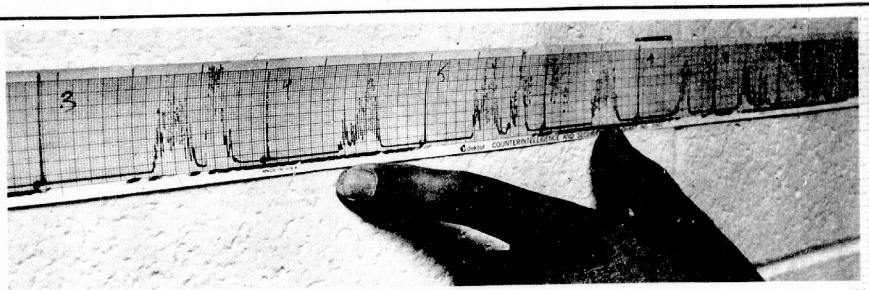

In other actions, the governor:

—Approved House Bill 3403, which designates the Institute of Natural Resources as the state agency assigned to act as a clearing house for conducting research and informing the public about alcohol fuel technology.

—Approved Senate Bill 1979, giving the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency and the Pollution Control Board clear authority to issue pre-construction permits for new facilities, as they are required to do under the 1977 Federal Clean Air Act.

—Signed House Bill 2941, which permits the use of special blood tests (including Human Leucocyte and Antigen tests) in court paternity suits to determine whether the man be included or excluded as the parent.

—Approved Senate Bill 1844, which temporarily increases the ceiling on new car installment loans as an encouragement for lending institutions to make more money available for car loans, effective Thursday. The legislation increases installment purchase rates until Dec. 31, 1981, as follows: From $8 on each $100 borrowed to $12 per $100 on new cars; from $11 per $100 to $13 per $100 for cars up to two years old. After 1981, the maximum rates return to their original levels.

essions. "I took the test because I thought I could beat the machine," one man said after the machine beat him. Officers pointed out the lies in his answers to test questions and the man finally admitted he had filed a false police report.

The man said his car had been stolen and wrecked. Later, after a tangle with the PSE, the man admitted he had loaned the car to his brother, who had wrecked it. He was charged with disorderly conduct for filing a false police report, pleaded guilty and paid a fine, Eck recalled.

In rape cases where an arrest is anticipated, the victim used to be asked to submit to a lie detector test if she wished to prosecute. Now, a relaxed interview before the PSE will indicate whether a rape actually occurred, saving a great deal of investigating time. Several young women who have reported rapes have admitted after a PSE test that they were not raped, Eck said.

There are no "surprises" when taking a PSE test, he noted. The subject taking the test relaxes in a chair, can have coffee and cigarettes, and answers pre-prepared questions into a microphone.

The questions to be asked are shown to the person in advance and he is asked if there are any questions he does not wish to be asked. Only the questions approved by the person taking the test are asked, Eck said.

Later, the answer to each question is analyzed by the PSE and the trained eyes of Eck and Astorian are used to analyze the graphs.

Questions are a mixture of relevant and irrelevant, to show how a person reacts to different questions. One may be, "Do you ever drink water?" Another is, "Do you occasionally watch television."

The person taking the test is asked to answer one question with a lie. From the irrelevant questions, voice patterns are recorded which are used to compare the answers to the relevant questions, Eck explained.

Then comes the "sky" questions. A series of three pertinent questions about the investigation. The three questions deal with whether the person suspects someone of committing the crime, whether the person has knowledge of who committed the crime, and then whether "you" committed the crime in question.

"Suspect, knowledge and you, those are the three sky questions which tell most of the tale. You get your main answers from those, as well as a few others. Then you follow with an irrelevant question, such as, 'Am I sitting down?'" the detective said.

If the graph of the answer to the last question compares well with the answers to the control questions, it indicates the machine still is working properly and was working properly when the three sky questions were asked, he added.

The machine can analyze more than just yes and no questions. Stress can be found in voice patterns during speech. This reporter said, "I did not speed on my way to work this morning," knowing full well that I did exceed the speed limit by five miles-per-hour.

The graph from the machine showed stress, particularly when the word "not" was said. "I would conclude that you did speed on your way to work this morning," Eck said, not knowing whether this reporter told the truth or a lie.

The machines have been in existence for about 10 years, but are only recently gaining credibility. A PSE operator during the Watergate scandal studied answers given by former President Richard Nixon, denying that some of his top aides involved in the Watergate break-in. The operator said his study showed that Nixon knew that several of his aides were involved, and the operator was able to use the word-of-aides. All later were indicted.

Granite City is the only area police department which has a PSE, which leads to many requests for the local department to use it on cases for other police departments.

"We will help, when we can, but only on homicides or very serious cases." We have helped other Madison County departments with the machine and some in St. Clair County, but we do not want to tie up a man full-time working on cases for other cities," Astorian said.

Granite City has had its PSC since March, 1968, when the Granite City Rotary Club, then headed by Don Schaffner, voted to purchase the $4,400 machine for the police. Three members voted against the purchase at that time, but the motion was approved.

Now PSC machines cost $5,250 and the manufacturers are selling them as rapidly as they can be assembled, Eck said.

If you do submit to a PSC test, are your charts going to be read by a qualified operator? we asked. Astorian and Eck are graduates of the Dektor Counter Intelligence and Security, Inc., school for use of the machine and Eck is a member of the International Polygraph and Stress Analysis Association.

If you don't believe they are good, try filing a false police report. One young man found out that is not a good idea, because, "You can't beat the machine."

Among those who have accepted invitations to appear on the panel are: Sandy Johnson, Child Abuse Center; Judy McNeely, Rape Crisis Center; Rosemary Lindner, Hospice; Sue Gasparovic, Alpha House; Phyllis Whitehead, Mental Health Program; and Yvonne Simmons, Special Women Project (Alcohol Abuse).

Sally Jo Burton of Collinsville will serve as panel moderator, Mrs. Derr said.

It was a bad summer for young people's jobs

The job situation for young people was considerably worse this summer than last, the Bureau of Labor Statistics has confirmed.

The number of 16-21 year-olds with jobs declined by 700,000 from July 1979 to July 1980, and the number of unemployed youths was 520,000 higher than last year.

As a result, the youth unemployment rate was up over the year from 13.4 to 16.4 percent (not seasonally adjusted), the highest July rate since 1975. The rise in unemployment occurred in about the same proportion among black and white youths.

Each summer, the 16-to-21 year-old labor force expands sharply, as large numbers enter the job market in search of summer jobs—and as high school and college graduates, many of whom were nonparticipants in the labor force while attending school, take or look for permanent jobs.

Between April and July 1980, the youth labor force increased by 3.9 million, slightly above last year's summertime expansion but in line with the increases of other recent summers.

An April-July labor force increase of 3.6 million was anticipated in earlier BLS projections.

Over the same time span, there was also a two million reduction in the number of youths who either held or were seeking part-time jobs, as many converted from part-time to full-time status for the summer.

The youth labor force of 18.1 million was 180,000 below the level of July 1979 and 300,000 below the record level of July 1978. Part of the reason for these declines stems from reductions in the youth population.

In addition, their civilian labor force participation rate, at 74.2 percent, was down for the second year in a row.

The decline in participation this year was entirely among white males; the rate for white females was about unchanged, while the rates for black males and females were both up over the year.

Youth employment was down 700,000 over the year to a level of 15.1 million, its lowest point since July 1977.

The sharp drop in employment, which greatly outweighed the moderate decline in the youth population, also resulted in a marked fall in the employment-population ratio—the proportion of their noninstitutional population that is employed.

At 60.3 percent, this ratio was down from last summer's record high of 62.8 percent. Both the white and black ratios fell over the year; that for white youth, however, continued to be 25 points higher than the corresponding black ratio.

The over-the-year decline in youth employment occurred almost entirely among private wage and salary workers in goods-producing industries, especially in construction and manufacturing.

In terms of occupations, the decline was centered among blue-collar workers. White-collar employment edged down slightly, while the number of service workers rose over the year.

The number of unemployed 16-21 year-olds was three million in July 1980, an increase of 520,000 from July 1979. The youth unemployment rate of 16.4 percent was at its highest point since July 1975, when it was 18.3 percent.

A substantial part of the July 1979-80 increase in the number of unemployed youth took place among males (375,000). The number of unemployed white youths rose 390,000 over the year, with three-fourths of the increase occurring among males. The unemployment rate for white youths rose from 11.4 to 14.0 percent.

Unemployment among black youths increased by 130,000, and their unemployment rate rose five percentage points to 33 percent. Unlike white youths, the over-the-year increase for blacks was shared about equally among males and females.

The ratio of black to white jobless rates continued to be in excess of 2 to 1.

Construction, engineering scholarships

Scholarships are currently available to students pursuing a career in construction or civil engineering. Available through the Associated General Contractors of America (AGC), the grants are for high school seniors, college freshmen, sophomores and juniors; or college seniors planning to enroll in a full-time master's level construction program.

Winners of the annual competition may be eligible for up to $6,000 over a four-year period of undergraduate study or up to $4,000 in assistance for the duration of their master's level study.

Applicants are selected on the basis of demonstrated interest in a construction industry career, academic performance, extracurricular activities and financial need. Each finalist is interviewed by an AGC contractor in his or her home area.

Applications for both the undergraduate and master's programs are available now from the national office of the Associated General Contractors of America, 1957 E. St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006. Locally, applications may be picked up at the Southern Illinois Builders Association, 7623 W. Main St., Belleville. The deadline for applications and recommendations is Dec. 1, 1980.

The AGC Education and Research Foundation, responsible for the scholarships, is a non-profit organization dedicated to upgrading the science of construction.

Programs include industry research and construction education activities from junior high school through the university level as well as continuing education programs for members of the industry.

The scholarship program was originated in 1970 and has assisted more than $450,000 to 215 students who have been or are currently enrolled at 74 colleges throughout the U.S. The Foundation has also provided more than $400,000 for research and educational studies of benefit to the construction industry.

REVIEWING PROGRAM for the Granite City Business and Professional Women's third annual "Women Involved Day," scheduled Saturday, Oct. 25, at the Granite City Township Building are Ollie Derr, BPW president-elect and project chairman, seated, and Charlotte Hilla, a member of the planning committee. All area women and girls are invited to take part.

Graduates from police academy

Robert Lee Chinn II, a former resident of Granite City, has graduated from the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Academy after completing 12 weeks of training.

Chinn was among a graduating class of 37 persons, the largest group ever to graduate from the academy. The graduation ceremonies were held Aug. 22.

Chinn said there were more than 900 applicants to enter the academy and only 49 were accepted. Twelve persons left during the training period.

The new officer is a 1976 graduate of Granite City High School South and attended Law Enforcement courses at Belleville Area College.

He and his wife, the former Teri Meagher of Granite City, were married here May 9 and Chinn was notified of his acceptance at the academy the following day.

The Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department serves all of Clark County, Nev., including Las Vegas, North Las Vegas and Henderson. The officer is the son of Josephine Chinn and Robert Chinn, both of Granite City. His wife's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smick of Granite City.

Auditor is pursuing oversight of agency

By CARYL CARSTEN
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — U.S. courts may become a tool for moving the so-called immutable state Supreme Court on the issue of legislative oversight of funds spent by agencies created it.

Auditor General Robert Cronson is preparing to intervene in a case in U.S. District Court in Chicago that might provide the vehicle to help resolve the controversy.

The case specifically involves only the standing of the Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission, created by the Illinois Supreme Court, with the U.S. Social Security System. The Social Security Administration wants to suspend the agency's participation in the program, arguing that the commission is improperly categorized as an agency separate and distinct from the rest of the state government.

The commission has filed suit to block the suspension.

However, the social security case also may help answer a basic question in a nearly 3-year-old controversy between the court and Cronson: Is the Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission an agency of state government?

The case also has led to a charge that the commission has distorted a previous attorney general's opinion.

The commission was created by the Supreme Court to deal with registration of attorneys practicing in Illinois, with investigation of charges made against them and with other disciplinary matters. Attorneys pay fees to the commission, and those fees support its activities.

Cronson has been fighting for the right to audit the commission's books since 1977.

But the court contends the funds spent by the commission are not state funds. It says allowing Cronson to audit the commission's books would be contrary to the doctrine of the separation of the judicial and legislative branches.

Instead, the commission's books are audited by accountants employed by the courts.

The Social Security Administration placed the commission's employees under Social Security in 1976, accepting it as an "instrumentality" of the state — an agency created by, but separate from, state government — according to commission spokesman, John Oswald.

However, in February of this year, the Social Security Administration informed the commission it no longer had any standing as a separate agency and its participation in the Social Security program would be cancelled. The Supreme Court was found to be the employer of the commission staff and, therefore, the commission's employees were determined to be part of the general state social security program.

The commission's suit alleges the decision by the Social Security Administration is arbitrary and at odds with its earlier actions in accepting payments by the Commission.

If the federal court finds that the commission is a part of state government, the agency would be subject to the auditing process like any other state agency, Cronson said.

"I would hope, at that point, the Supreme Court and everybody else ... would abide by that," Cronson said. However, he added that he does not expect the federal court to get into the specific problem of the commission's relationship to state government except as it applies to social security coverage.

"I don't think anybody ... can say they (the commission's funds) are not public funds," Cronson said.

One potential solution to the problem, bringing suit in state court against the commission, has a fatal drawback — the appeal of any decision made in such a suit eventually would land before the state Supreme Court, Cronson notes.

That's one reason he hopes the federal suit will clear the air. Cronson takes heart from a 1974 attorney general's opinion that he feels supports his position — but the commission also has cited that opinion in its behalf.

That opinion, again, was in connection with allowing commission employees to enter the social security system under the state law that allows state government employees and employees of independent agencies created by the law to be included in the system.

The conclusion reached in the opinion, never tested in court, was that the commission is not an agency independent of state government, but rather "an agency of the judicial branch" of the state of Illinois.

The opinion also said that, while the court may hire employees and otherwise act to carry out its functions, "it does not enjoy the legislative power reserved by the people in the General Assembly to create by law" and cannot create agencies "legally separate and distinct from the state of Illinois."

Cronson believes the opinion upholds his stance that the commission and the closely related Board of Law Examiners are state agencies, whose spending of state money must be audited by his office.

However, the Attorney Registration and Disciplinary Commission takes the opposite view.

In its 1979 annual report, the commission said:

"The Illinois attorney general determined that employees of the commission are not state employees, and therefore, not eligible to participate in the state employee retirement system (which includes participation in the federal Social Security program)."

The attorney general's office has not enlarged upon its ruling.

However, one former researcher and opinion writer for the attorney general's office agrees, with Cronson, that the opinion does not say commission employees are not state employees.

"I sincerely hope that the distortion of judicial powers in the state of Illinois will be set straight in that case," the ex-researcher told Carl Rowlewick, assistant administrator of the commission, in a recent letter.

During the spring legislative session, the General Assembly appropriated funds for the commission and the Board of Law Examiners and Gov. James R. Thompson approved the appropriations. Those actions implicitly support Cronson's position.

However, Chief Supreme Court Judge Joseph Goldensherst, cited by his content that the fees paid to the two agencies are not public funds and are not open to audit by the auditor general.

Opening night results mixed

North blows by Comanches

CAHOKIA — Darren DePew is not the kind of football player to be taken lightly. Friday night for example he caught one touchdown pass, kicked a field goal and three extra points, kicked off four times for 226 yards, made four tackles, and recovered two fumbles.

Whew! Judging from the results, though, DePew is just one of the things not to be taken lightly by opponents of the Granite City North Steelers.

DePew and North walloped Cahokia in their season-opener, 26-0.

On the ground, in the air, and off the foot, the Steelers were impressive offensively.

And on defense, well, the numbers tell the story. Cahokia gained a total of 37 yards.

"We're happy with the shut-out," said Steelers coach Tom Wyrostek. "We did a lot of things right obviously, but we still made a lot of first-game mistakes. There's still a lot of work to do."

"One thing, though, we did show we could do the job offensively."

Wyrostek's reticence to out-and-out praise his team for such its obvious domination of the Comanches may be caused by the nature of the opponent.

Cahokia was the doormat of the Gateway East conference last season, losing all eight of its games.

With such a puny base from which to build, the Comanches might not be the best gauge of a new season.

The fact remains, though, there was a football game with real live players, and there was hitting and passing and running.

Mostly, though, it was

North doing the hitting, passing and running.

The Steelers began their scoring early. In the first quarter, Kevin Buchanan took the ball in from the seven-yard line, and DePew tucked on the extra point, giving North a 7-0 lead.

In the second quarter, DePew hit a 34-yard field goal after a North drive stalled, making it 10-0. Then DePew caught a 23-yard pass from Quarterback Dan Patterson.

It was 17-0 at the half.

A safety added two third quarter points, and Buchanan later in the period went in from the five.

A 26 point lead in the fourth quarter was enough. The final period was scoreless.

In all the Steelers ran for 176 yards, and passed for another 83. North had 18 first downs, and Patterson threw 14 passes with eight completions.

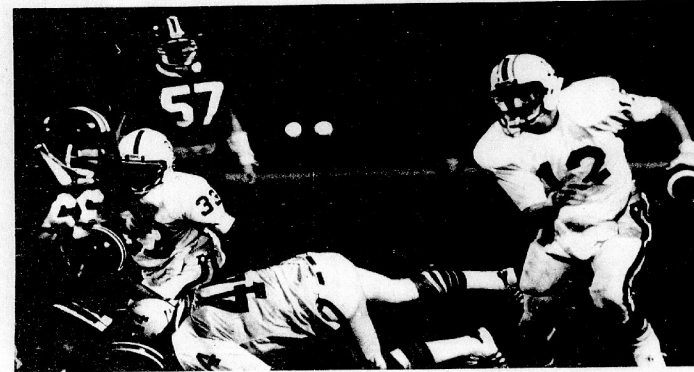

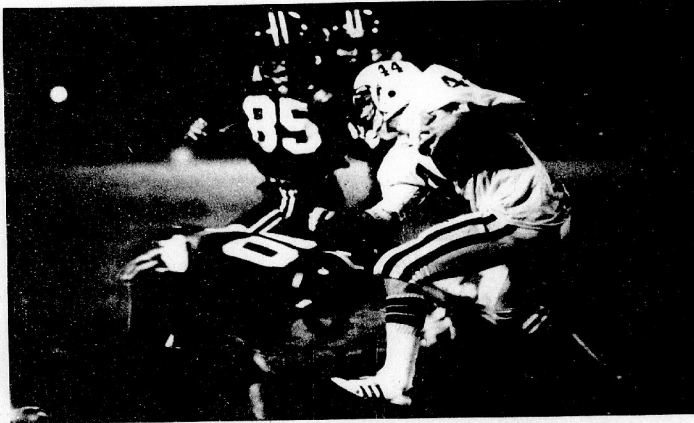

On defense the Steelers were equally as tough. Besides DePew's two fumble recoveries, North sacked the Cahokia quarterback twice, got still another fumble recovery from Marty Rose, and an interception by Mike Long.

"I was very pleased with the defense. They only gave up 37 yards. I don't know if that's a school record or not, I'd have to look it up, but it's probably pretty close."

Still, work remains to be done before North's game next week against Collinsville.

"We made some mistakes on offense and defense, and that's what we'll be working on this week in practice," Wyrostek said.

North doesn't take things even a 26-point win — lightly either.

OPENING NIGHT in Granite City. Friday brought the Belleville East Lancers calling. East beat the Warriors, 21-0, spoiling the season-opener, but South coach Stan Wojcik called the game a victory of sorts. In the top photo, East's quarterback Jeff Larson turns the corner as South defenders Jeff Cotter and Randy Lupardus watch, and in the bottom photo, Lancer running back John Gregorich is brought down by a Warrior.

South falls to East's Lancers

By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Talking with Stan Wojcik Friday night, you'd never have guessed that his Granite City South Warriors had just taken a beating at the hands of Belleville East.

"We had a very outstanding show from these kids tonight," said Wojcik. "They hung in there real tough."

But key mistakes allowed Belleville quarterback Jeff Larson and the Lancers to deliver a pounding to the Warriors in South's home opener, 21-0.

Larson quickly took advantage of one of those mistakes by the Warriors to open up the scoring for Belleville. With a little over four minutes to play in the first quarter, South chose to blitz with its defensive backs. Larson turned to hand off to his fullback, but as the Warriors converged on the ball carrier he took the ball himself and galloped 70 yards for the touchdown.

"We didn't tackle very well tonight," said Wojcik. "We missed a lot."

Missed tackles continued to plague South as Larson took the offensive show into his own hands. He found the end zone once more, but not as easily.

Facing a fourth and six, Larson dropped back into the pocket to pass, but was forced to scramble. Finding an opening in the right side of the Warriors' defensive line, he scooted 28 yards for another six points.

The Lancer's Brian Brumley added the conversion and Belleville was riding high with 14-0 lead. They tacked on their final score in the third period on a one yard run.

It wasn't only Larson doing the damage. In 15 carries, he gained 124 yards, scoring two TD's, primarily a running team throughout the contest, Belleville did put the ball in the air 11 times, completing four for 62 yards.

But the biggest difference was in the rushing figures. The Lancers out-ran South 307 to 108.

"They shut off our running game to the inside," said Lancer head coach Dean Reem. "So we had to run to the outside. And Larson, well, he was lucky. I could have run by the corner backs. But I never thought I would see a quarterback open like that. South has the makings of a good ball club. They put the heat on Larson all night."

The Warriors countered with Jim Frangoulis on the ground. In ten carries, he ran for his team's output, rambled for 54 yards. However, when it came to South's turn for an aerial attack, the Warriors couldn't crank it up until the second half.

With that, sophomore starter John Linhart completed 7 of 17 for 79 yards. But it just wasn't enough.

"We had bad field position in the first half," said Wojcik. "I was afraid of an interception and giving them good field position. I wanted to get out of the danger zone first. Linhart has a lot of poise for a sophomore, though. He really surprised me."

When South couldn't make it into the end zone, they at least tried to put some points on the board with a couple of field goal attempts. But just as all else failed, so did this.

Bruce Monahan's 38 yard attempt in the first quarter hit the bottom of the crossbar and his second try, also from 38 yards out, was blocked.

Nevertheless, it's only the season opener and South will have eight more tries. And as far as Wojcik is concerned, the Warriors might as well be 1-0 instead of 0-1.

"I admired the way we played," said Wojcik. "Some guys were going both ways. God, I couldn't believe it. I thought we would be in trouble. They did a hell of a job. It was great."

Just imagine what Wojcik has to say when South wins a game.

South Boosters

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South Booster Club will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday, Sept. 9 at 7:30 p.m.

All interested parents are welcomed to attend — especially those of new freshmen students, according to Franz Feigl, president of the club.

Steelers blast Althoff

By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — You couldn't exactly say Bob Kehoe is a pessimistic man. For the past eight years, he has been blessed with an abundance of talent in his Granite City North soccer program. And for the past eight years, his squads have been perennial playoff contenders.

But before the 1980 season, Kehoe felt that this year's team might be one of his weakest — but no more. After Saturday's performance at home his views just might be changing toward the optimistic side again. The Steeler kickers blasted Belleville Althoff 8-0 to preserve their unbeaten record. North now stands at 2-0-2.

Most coaches would love to see his team coast to such a comfortable winning margin. But not Kehoe. You might even say the score left him, ah...pleased maybe, but not elated.

"We had numerous scoring opportunities," said Kehoe, "and we cashed in on quite a few as you can see by the score. You don't need eight goals to win. It was apparent to me, that after the first quarter, the game was won. We had the game won."

The triumph had a little more meaning for Kehoe than a landslide victory. "I was rather pleased for the first time this year," said Kehoe. "We have been searching in pre-season and in the beginning of the regular season and we're not entirely finished in finding the correct system. But we drew very close today. I wanted to see how well we would work together. I don't feel like embarrassing a team, I like to win, but I hope I didn't embarrass Althoff."

Front line players Jeff Puryear and Paul Barrington teamed up to inflict practically all the damage for the steelers.

Puryear found an opening in the goal twice, while Barrington, like-wise, connected on two goals and he dished out one assist. The pair combined to give North its 3-0 advantage in the first quarter.

Puryear and Barrington work well together," said Kehoe. "Barrington is strong, powerful runner and to get him off the ball is difficult. Puryear is not as big, but he is very quick. So we play to these powers and assets, the great thing about it, is that they don't have to perform well for us to win."

This was certainly true as they laid off, allowing their teammates to get a piece of the action. Eric Maas scored in the second quarter, while Barrington provided the lone goal in the third on an assist from Brian Pinkens. However the Steeler kickers exploded for the hat trick in the final period.

Ron Rowden cradled the ball on an assist from Tim Dean. Dean came right back to grab a goal of his own, while Robert Seales finished off the attack with an unassisted strike from 30 yards out.

"When you're searching for the right line-up," said Kehoe, "you let it go a little bit to see if indeed it is the correct system."

The Steelers dominated every aspect of the game. Outshooting the Crusaders 23-5, they also had more corner kicks and fewer fouls. Most of North's shooting barrage came from their halfbacks, Matt's and Seales.

"You might say, how can we win with guys like these," said Kehoe. "They are small in stature, but let me tell you, they are very tall when it comes to teamwork. They have good power and we encourage them to shoot from far outside the penalty area. In fact we hit the crossbar 10 different times, mostly from shots by these two guys."

For Kehoe and the Steelers, Saturday's contest was a big step into the right direction. "There is a better understanding among the players on the field," said Kehoe. "We had some loose ends, but we are very close to what you might call the right line-up. Once we gain more experience, we'll find the right person for the right position. It's like a crossword puzzle. When the pieces fit, you can see what the picture looks like and then it kind of brightens up."

That picture will have to look awfully good when the Steelers face their next opponent — five-time state champion Granite South.

Cross-country runners descend upon GC North

GRANITE CITY — Runners — 125 of them — representing 21 schools, descended upon Granite City North Saturday for the Granite City North Invitational.

Alton and East St. Louis were the big winners, but the Granite City schools — the host Steelers and Granite City South's Warriors — came away with some personal accomplishments.

For North, the most impressive performance was Bruce DeRuntz' fifth-place finish.

His time of 14:42 was best among all of Granite City's entrants and went far to helping his team 10th place in the meet overall.

For South, the best finish was recorded by Dave McLean, who ran the 3.9 mile course in 15:22, good for 17th individually.

The Warriors, with runners bunched near the middle of the field, finished eighth in the meet.

The overall winner of the invitational was Alton, who, with three runners in the top ten finalists, was low scorer with 97 team points.

Next was Centralia with 124 points, followed by East St. Louis with 142. Individually, East St. Louis Lincoln's Dedrick Flowers was first at 14:18, Belleville West's Rick Barnes was second with a 14:22 finish, and Paul Gompers of Belleville East was third at 14:36.

Finishing behind DeRuntz

for the Steelers, were Kerry Schaefer at 15:12 in 15th place, Paul Hoosier at 15:37 in 49th, Greg Jackson at 16:17 in 69th, Mike Robinson at 17:35 in 72nd, Steve Maler at 18:23 in 110th, and Bob Portell at 19:41 in 121st.

Behind McLean for South were: Jeff Taylor, 25th place at 15:22; Jim McQuaid, 34th at 15:37; Ron Brown, 46th at 15:22; Jim Geisler, 77th at 16:48; Steve DuMont, 88th at 17:12; and Tony Zarlingo, 114th at 15:37.

The results were much the same on the girls side of the tournament for the Granite City schools as they were for the boys.

North finished 10th and South was ninth.

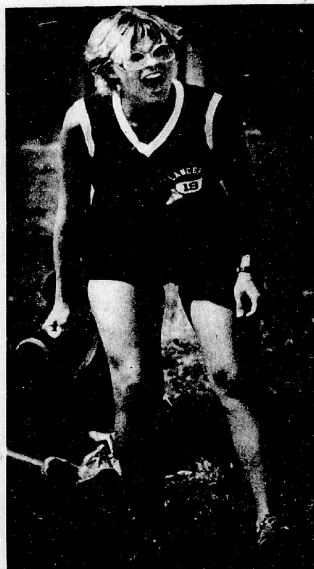

Mary Bisch of South finished highest for both schools. Her 12:34 time on the two-mile course was good for seventh.

Mary Romine of the Warriors finished 13th with a time of 13:03.

For North, the top girl's finisher was Laura Naler, whose time of 14:14 gave her 33rd place.

Other runners for South were: Nancy Jones in 51st place with 14:44, Fran Scotti in 69th place at 17:22, Dana Evans in 71st place at 18:10, and Connie Williamson in 72nd at 18:47.

For North, Toni McCann was 41th at 14:30, Yvonne Dagon was 56th at 15:10, Cheryl Jameson was 65th at 16:30, Laura Howard was 75th at 21:45, and Debbie Bisserman was 76th at 24:16.

WINNERS, LOSERS and survivors are common to all cross country events, but especially in one the size and scope of the Granite City North Invitational held Saturday at North. About 125 runners from 21 different schools competed, and some, as suggested by the photo above, were happy to make it over the whole 2.9 mile course. Alton won the tournament team championship.

Amazing Tigers tie Warriors

South beats Alton 7-1 on Thursday

Oops. That was the sound the Granite City South Soccer Warriors made, Friday.

It was the sound of a defending state champion being derailed by a vastly improved Edwardsville Tiger team.

The same Tiger team that pulled off an amazing 1-1 tie of Granite City North a week ago did it again.

The Tigers tied the Warriors 2-2.

The slip against Edwardsville came on the heels of an impressive 7-0 win over a much higher regarded opponent — Alton.

It goes to show you — just when things are going the way you want them to, somebody comes along and spoils it.

EDWARDSVILLE
The Granite City South soccer squad was riding right along on a two game winning streak while coming off an impressive win over Alton. But the Warriors were not expecting the likes of the Edwardsville Tigers Friday evening.

Unfortunately, South failed to chalk up its third win, but they did manage to remain unbeaten. The Tigers received an outstanding performance from Chris Mackie, their man in the net and drew the Warriors a 1-1 tie.

"Their goalie played real well," said South head coach Gene Baker. "He really made some good saves." This feat was a reflection on the number of shots the Warriors fired on goal. South managed to rifle 32 shots, as Mackie came up with 17 saves. "To give him credit," said Baker, "we even had a couple of shots by Dave Fernandez and Tim Dix glance off the cross bar."

Try as they may, the Warriors could only come up one lone goal and that managed to slip by in the final quarter. Dix was credited with the assist as he set up David Paz with a pass from about 20 yards out. Paz reeled off a very good shot that found the corner of the goal dead to right. The Edwardsville goalie was clearly beaten as the Warriors pulled out a tie.

South's situation in the contest might have been different had it not been for an injury to Fernandez. "David got hurt in the first quarter," said Baker. "That really hurt us. But Edwardsville is a physical team and they play with a lot of intensity."

This could probably explain the large number of fouls in the game. The Tigers committed 23 violations compared to just 7 for South.

While the Edwardsville goal keeper was kept hopping, the Warriors' Joe LeMaster took it easy, as he was only required to come up with 8 saves.

With the strong offensive charge put on by South, the Tigers found little time to get their own offense started. They got only 13 shots on goal, but received the one they needed.

Baker was not especially thrilled with the results. "We are never going to be happy unless we win," said Baker. "We have improved these last few games and we are making progress. But we always have to look at the way you played the game before."

ALTON
The Warriors defeated highly-touted Alton 7-1 in its second game of the season Thursday night. Alton came into the game with a 4-0 record and hadn't been scored upon.

South changed all that. But Baker wasn't entirely happy. "It seems we score in streaks," he said. "We've done it in practice, too."

The night belonged to David Fernandez.

Fernandez, the flashy high school All-American, dazzled the fans, his teammates — and the Alton Redbirds — with his passing. But that's not all he did. He scored too.

Three goals, to be exact. But the first one didn't come easily. It wasn't until 53 seconds remained in the first quarter that Fernandez found the back of the net.

Taking a pass from teammate Rich Moore, Fernandez zipped one from about 20 yards out into the left-hand corner of the goal. The first goal was important. Until it was scored, Alton was battling the Warriors tooth and nail, even though most of the action was in the Alton end of the field. Fernandez's first goal took a little of the air out of the Redbirds' sails.

South's Billy Heney got credit for the second goal midway through the second quarter. But there was more to it than that. South's David Paz took a throw in from the right side of the Alton goal. Heney settled the ball and let go a shot that went in off an Alton player's chest.

At that point, the game degenerated. "We just walk away," said Baker. "When the other team wants to start a fight or starts shoving, we just walk away. That's the only thing you can do."

At the 2:47 mark of the third period, Fernandez made it 3-0. "He's beautiful when he's full strength, isn't he," said Baker. "He can do so many things away from the ball and with the ball."

"Basketball's got 'Dr. J.' I guess we could call David 'The Foot Doctor.'" South's Robbie Mann and Eric Waltenberg teamed up for the fourth goal. Mann took a pass deep to the right of the Alton goal, near the corner kick area. He lofted a high, arching cross pass that the 6-2 Waltenberg headed into the upper left hand corner of the goal.

"It was a pretty pass and a pretty goal," said Baker. "But it's really not something that he (Mann) will be able to do over and over again. Instead, we like them (players) to concentrate more on cross passes that have a better chance of working every time."

Then came the hat trick. Early in the fourth quarter, Fernandez took a short pass from Heney just inside the scoring area to the left of the Alton goal. He let go with a shot on the ground that scooted in.

He walked away calmly. All in a night's work. For the player who was once the freshman standout and the sophomore sensation is now the team leader. The veteran. He oozes confidence.

Phil Popmarkoff's first and Waltenberg's second goal of the game finished the scoring for South.

Sandwiched between those two goals was one by Alton's Darren Jones. A teammate found him loose behind the South defense and hit him with a lead pass. But he couldn't get off a clean shot.

Instead, after hitting it off the South defenders twice and South goalie Joe LeMaster once, he bounced in a rebound just over a sprawling LeMaster's hand.

The South dominance of the Redbirds is obvious in the statistics. The Warriors outshot their opponents 40-8. They had the edge in corner kicks 7-1. LeMaster had to make only two saves, while Alton goalies made 14.

JAYVEE ACTION

The South junior varsity Warriors remained unbeaten with a 4-0 win over Alton. Goals were scored by Barry Grote, Billy Heney, Tim Paz and Scott Vickers.

South golfers lose

By TOM SCHOCKER

of the Press Record

GRANITE CITY — At the beginning of the season for the Granite South golf team the future didn't look very promising. In fact, it looked rather disappointing, as the Warriors dropped the first three matches of the season. But Thursday's match at home against Wood River was a different story. For the fans of South golf the results would be the same. However, for coach Boone Chaney, the 192-100 narrow loss to the Oilers at the Arlington Golf Course meant much more.

"This is the first time we have played well all season," said Chaney. The Warriors were helped with two fine rounds by Todd Burns and Paul Zimmer. The pair teed off to fire rounds of 37 apiece. This was also an added pleasure for Chaney. "Zimmer shot real well," said Chaney. "He usually shoots around 41, but he had a fine day."

For Burns, the low score was not unusual. In fact, it was just another normal day on the course. "Burns has been shooting around 36, 37, 38," said Chaney. "So it was just a normal performance for him." South's score was rounded out by Larry Holder and Kim Rapp. Holder fired a 40, while Rapp came up with a score of 46.

Even though the Warriors still haven't the right swing that could produce their first victory, Chaney felt that their match with Woodriver was a good sign. "I consider shooting 160 playing real well," said Chaney. "Wood River just played better. As a matter of fact, that was the best Wood River has shot at Arlington in quite a few years."

Nevertheless, coach Chaney looks to the future with smile and an optimistic outlook. "If we continue to shoot around 160, we'll win a few matches," he said.

SIUE wins in east

BOSTON — The SIUE

Cougars brought their record to 2-1 as they tried to defend their NCAA soccer championship on the East Coast.

Friday, the Cougars faced

Boston University and beat the Terriers 3-1.

Tim Guelker put the Cougars on top at 38:20 with a goal past Terrier keeper

Manuel Olivaux on a penalty.

But Boston U. came back to tie the game just three minutes later. Greg Devereux was given credit for a freak goal, bounced off Guelker

after an SIUE defender tried to clear the ball from in front of the Cougar nets.

At 42:23 SIUE's Mike

Gauvain returned the

Cougars lead when he headed in Pat Malloy's throw-in from the corner.

In the second half, Steve

Schell gave SIUE its final 3-1 lead with an unassisted goal.

Cougar goal keeper Ed

Gettemeier made three saves — all in the second half, while Boston U. fired 16 shots on goal.

Olivaux made seven saves on 32 Cougar shots.

Sunday, the Cougars faced

Boston College's Eagles, and again recorded a 2-1 win.

And again it was Guelker

opening the scoring for

SIUE, 12 minutes into the game. Guelker headed in a pass from Steve Schell.

Boston's Peter Dorfman

tied the score when he scored on an assist from Louis

Papinkeller at 27:18.

In the second half, it was a lead as he headed in Gauvain's pass.

Matt Malloy's second goal of the game came just two minutes before the end of the contest as he put a pass from his brother Pat into the net nailing down the 3-1 win.

Mark Downer in goal for the Cougars, made seven saves, as Boston shot 21 times at the goal. Tom

McElroy, Boston's keeper,

made five saves on 22 SIUE shots.

The Cougars next move on to Dallas to face SMU at 8 p.m., Friday, then play

Texas Christian at 1:30 p.m.

Sunday.

Baker, Redbirds want national prominence

BLOOMINGTON — Since

John Coughlan took over as

Illinois State University's

cross country coach, the ISU program has grown in phases. Last year, the

Redbirds became a Midwest

power, placing first in the Illinois Intercollegiate, third in the central Collegiate and second in the Notre Dame

Invitational.

The next phase in this,

Coughlan's fourth year, is to bring ISU into national prominence. The Redbirds appear primed to take that direction, returning nine lettermen and six of their top seven runners.

"We're looking forward to an outstanding season,"

Coughlan said. "We hate to get too optimistic early, but we definitely have much to get enthusiastic about."

The Redbirds lost standout

Dave Irion of Normal to graduation, but still return experience in senior three-year letterman Mike Matteson of Aurora West plus junior two-year letter

winners Mike Baker of

Granite City North and

Herman Sahneyah of Tuba City, Ariz.

Matteson, a 10,000-meter

All-American in track, has run the 3-mile in 13:47 and the 6-mile in 28:15. Baker, a national qualifier for the mile run and steeplechase in track, has run the mile in 4:05 and 3-mile in 13:51.

Sahneyah boasts a 13:51 time in the 3-mile and 28:45 mark in the 6-mile.

"Those three runners have the potential to be most outstanding," Coughlan said. "All three could win a big meet."

Sahneyah is the key person to the Redbirds. He suffered an injury at the end of the spring track season that Coughlan described as "not shin splints, but some tearing away of the fibers from the bone on his lower left leg."

Coughlan is confident of his depth. He feels even without Sahneyah, the Redbirds will fare well.

"With or without him, we have an outstanding season," Coughlan explained. "If he's there, it will be super, but if not it will be a little less."

ISU shows a sterling

supporting cast behind its top three. Returning lettermen include junior Jim Galen of Deaton (Thornridge), junior Brad Little of

Canton, senior Chris Kuntz

of Villa Park (Wilhoosh), junior Gary Mattes of Niles

(Maine East), sophomore

Jeff Hill of Glen Ellyn

(Glenbard West) and junior

Bill Peid of Niles (Main

East).

"Galen and Little both look to have outstanding seasons,"

Coughlan said. "And as in the past, Kuntz will be one of our top runners."

Coughlan's "unbelievable" group of freshmen

recruits come to ISU with top credentials. "They've come here with enthusiasm," the ISU coach said. "They'll definitely contribute and have some outstanding seasons."

Tim Vandergrift of Villa

Park (Willowbrook) was an

All-Star last year, and was the state mile champion.

Stan Ozarowski of Park

Ridge (Maine East), was another All-Stater and placed in the state half-mile.

Another All-Stater recruit is

Mike Eggle of Des Plaines

(Maine East). He's also run a 4:17 mile. Freshman Mike

Kirk of Deaton (Thorridge)

grabbed fourth place honors in cross country last year in the state and also placed in the top 10 in the 2-mile.

Recruit Steve Sanowski of

Omaha, Neb. (Burke), was

Nebraska's state cross country champ and was named a high school All-

American. Springfield's

Greg Love is also in the

With such a collection of veteran talent and enthusiastic freshmen,

Coughlan hopes this year will be the one to implement his hopes of ISU becoming a national power.

Everyone is gungho to have a great year,"

Coughlan said. "I've had to hold some of our top runners back from doing too much too soon."

Noud recruiter aide

Private Stephen Noud of Granite City has an Army assignment in his home town. For the next 30 days, he will work as a recruiter aide at the Army recruiting station, 3675 Nameoki Road, where he enlisted.

He will assist Staff Sergeant Virgil Cupples, who signed him up, and the other recruiters at the station. His duty as a recruiter aide is to link the recruiters with the young people of Granite City. He will talk about his Army experiences with interested seniors at area high schools, including Granite City North, where he graduated in 1975. He is the son of Albert and Caroline Noud of Granite City.

Why did Pvt. Noud join the Army? "I wanted a secure, challenging job," he says. "I plan to make the Army my career."

He enlisted one month before he left for basic training. He signed up under the Army's delayed entry program, which lets a recruit begin duty up to 12 months after enlisting, while earning credit — for time in service — for pay and assignment considerations from the original date of enlistment.

Delayed entry also lets a high school senior reserve the skill training of his or her choice while still in school. Pvt. Noud took basic and advanced individual training at Ft. Sill, Okla. He trained as a fire support specialist and will serve at Ft. Hood, Tex., after he completes his Granite City assignment. Both the skill training and the assignment location were picked by him.

Pvt. Noud received a $3,000 cash bonus when he successfully completed training in his fire support specialty. The Army pays cash bonuses to qualified enlistees entering a number of fields.

It was during advanced individual training that he was approved for recruiter aide duty. The program is competitive, and selection reflects outstanding ability. Sgt. Cupples said.

BPW meets Sept. 17

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Granite City will hold its monthly dinner meeting Wednesday, Sept. 17, in the Officer's Club at the Granite City Army Installation.

Dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 p.m., with a business session to follow immediately.

The meeting will focus on the Business and Professional Women's Foundation and its continuing efforts to provide scholarships and financial assistance to women seeking higher educational opportunities.

The entire program will be conducted by members of the Granite City BPW Foundation Committee with special emphasis on the Celia M. Howard Fellowship Fund, according to Sharon Beckett, committee co-chairman.

Members and guests wishing to attend the meeting may call reservations to 877-2220 or 877-2221.

Hansel to be guest speaker

Southern Illinois Divorced and Separated Catholics (SIDSC) will meet Wednesday, Sept. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in Eckhard Hall, St. Boniface Catholic Church, 128 N. Buchanan, Edwardsville.

Guest speaker will be Max Hansel, counselor and instructor at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The topic will be "The Goal Setting and Decision Making Connection."

Hansel currently teaches career planning and development and decision making for consumers in the School of Business and is a counselor at the Counseling and Testing Center of the university.

He received his master's degree from Western Michigan University and has worked on his doctorate in guidance and educational psychology at SIU at Carbondale.

Suzanne Snajdr and Paul Brewer are wed

The wedding on July 19 of Miss Suzanne L. Snajdr, 412 West Lake Drive, Edwardsville, and Paul W. Brewer, 5100 Collinsville Ave., Fairmont City, was solemnized at the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville campus.

Officiating at the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony was the Rev. David Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church.

Bouquets of yellow roses and baby's breath adorned the altar and piano and guitar solos were provided by Judy Mantion.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Snajdr III. Parents of the groom are Paul G. Brewer, 1611 Spring Ave., and Mrs. Betty M. Mills, Pontoon Beach.

For her wedding the bride chose a formal organza over taffeta gown designed with a fitted bodice, long sheer sleeves and high neckline, accented with Brussels lace motifs.

Her full skirt terminated with a gathered flounce, marked at the top with a deep lace ruffle, and extended into a chapel train. She wore a lace edged mantilla veil and she held a bouquet of white roses intermingled with baby's breath and tied with lace streamers.

Honor attendant, Karin Miller and bridesmaids Carol Snajdr, a sister-in-law of the bride, Holly Goldsmith and Maggie Carlile, were attired in identical yellow polyester dresses complemented with matching sheer capes.

Each girl carried an arrangement of yellow roses with sprigs of baby's breath. Belynda Adams, a niece of the groom, and John Burk, a cousin of the bride, served as flower girl and ringbearer.

She was dressed in a yellow floor length frock with a stand-up collar and ruffle around the hemline, trimmed with white lace. She held a white basket filled with yellow roses.

The groom chose his brother, Keith Brewer, as best man, Bob Brewer, another brother of the groom, Keith Bort, Sonny Sebastian, Kevin Yates and Steve Cherry, the bride's cousin, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at the Polish Hall in Madison and the rehearsal dinner was at Ravanello's Restaurant.

After a wedding trip to St. Thomas and the Virgin Islands, the newlyweds are now residing in Edwardsville.

The former Miss Snajdr is a graduate of SIUE and is employed as an art teacher in the Belleville School District.

A 1974 graduate of Granite City High School, the groom is an employee of Consolidated Rail Corp.

Dewey Avenue Church 75th anniversary set

By DONNA HARTWICK
of the Press-Record

After months of planning and organizing various projects, final arrangements have been completed for the 75th anniversary celebration of Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church set for Saturday, Sept. 13, to feature a bazaar and chicken and dumpling dinner and services.

Pauline Squires, bazaar craft chairman, and her committee has collected several quilts and afghans to be sold at the bazaar with crocheted, macramé, ceramic and handcraft items, many relative to the Christmas season. There also will be a Country Kitchen with special preserves, baked goods, breads and canned foods on display. Other booths will include white elephant articles and used books for sale.

The chicken and dumpling dinner will be served from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. by Mrs. Mayme Wagoner and her kitchen committee at a cost of $3 for adults and $1.50 for children.

Following the observance, the Rev. Ray Kelley reports that on Sept. 28, regular church service at 10:30 a.m. will be followed by a tea at 2:30 p.m. featuring special music under the direction of Mrs. Walta Harrison and a review of the church history by Mrs. Lottie Squires.

Special recognition will also be accorded to former pastors and friends with a speech by the District Superintendent the Rev. Don Lowe. Refreshments will be served by the United Women's Society of Christian Service.

Other events in preparation for the anniversary celebration have included a think-spring sandwich and salad supper as the kick-off event, a 1900 old-fashioned potluck with a craft work day for the youth and a salad supper and work day project at the church, all under the leadership of Co-chairmen Judy Hinterser and Jean Hileman.

The church originated with a group of people who wanted a Methodist Church in the area and formed a congregation which held its first service in 1902 at Washington Elementary School.

In the ensuing years the initial group purchased property and the ground-breaking ceremony took place on April 19, 1905. The cornerstone was laid on June 29 of the same year.

Under the leadership of the Rev. L. M. Burkhead, the church was organized on Sept. 30, 1905, with dedication services held on Oct. 22.

The congregation continued expansion projects and agreed to construct a parsonage on the same lot, fronting West 22nd Street, in 1920.

The growth of the membership continued and in 1955 the adjoining property on Dewey Avenue was purchased to accommodate the Sunday School classes. The temporary educational building was named Wesley House.

Thoughts of a new structure were discussed and members began a building fund drive which provided funds for the project. Ground-breaking ceremonies took place on Sept. 4, 1960, under the guidance of the Rev. Commodore Grove.

The dream of a new church became a reality on Easter Sunday 1961 when the doors of the new church were opened.

Pastors who have served the church since its beginning are the Reverends L. Burkhead, C. Hall, W. Dunn, H. Brown, H. Armitage, J. Lee, O. Kinsey, W. Evans, O. Whitlock, J. Campbell, E. Williams, M. Jackson, H. Fish, B. Adams, M. Watson, G. Speed.

The Reverends G. Humphries, L. Dade, V. Gould, J. Ragsdale, P. Grosclaude, R. Clodfelder, R. Hollis, E. Meyers, E. Fox, K. Young, L. Copeland, C. Grove, R. Switzer, J. Ambsbury, R. Clodfelder, D. Powers, Eugene Beasley and the current pastor, Ray Kelley.

An invitation to former members, those who attended the church, as well as past ministers, has been extended by Rev. Kelley and the planning committees.

THIEF TAKES $225

Currency totaling $225 was stolen last week from a wallet in the home of George Petchulat, 2810 E. 24th St.

Attorney will address Urban League dinner

The Madison County Urban League has completed plans for its 1980 annual report dinner Thursday, Sept. 18, at 6 p.m. in the Stratford Motor Hotel Skyroom, Alton.

Guest speaker will be Edward Welch, attorney, of Edwardsville, nationally known for his legal work in the area of minority involvement in the world of work.

He is co-chairman of the Alton area ad hoc committee for black participation in the voting process. He will speak on the Urban League theme, "Mobilizing for the 1980s," with emphasis on economic, political and cultural opportunities for minorities.

Reports will be given by the Executive Director Willie F. Walker and members of the board.

Walker and George Madison, president, will present honors to firms that participated in the summer youth project, in which the group as the year of follow-up support given to family members after the patient has died.

Bereavement is defined by the group as the year of follow-up support given to family members after the patient has died.

Hospice expands program; seminar planned this week

A seminar on "Hospice Care in the Community" will be held at Belleville Area College on Wednesday, Sept. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the theater.

Dr. Shabbir H. Safdar, Granite City physician and medical director of Hospice of Madison County, will speak on the care of terminally ill persons in their homes.

All interested in learning about an organized program of care for the terminally ill are being invited to attend the free seminar.

The local home care program has cared for 61 patient and family units since Oct. 1, 1979.

Training programs are conducted on the hospice concept of care, for the lay volunteers, registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, social workers and ministers and also for volunteers interested in working in bereavement.

Bereavement is defined by the group as the year of follow-up support given to family members after the patient has died.

"Many family members find the day-to-day problems of life more difficult to cope with when they are coping alone," a spokesman says.

"The bereavement

volunteers help the survivors first as an established friend and then get them any assistance they may need. It may be legal help, medical aid, many times, social.

"The organization has recently set up a new program, Lost and Found, totally made up of people who have suffered the loss of a loved one.

"The consensus of this group is that companionship of caring and compassionate people, a sense of belonging, and the ability to learn to enjoy things again are the three most important things that can be given to bereaved survivors. This program has enjoyed successful first three months of operation."

The Belleville area has recently shown interest in starting a hospice program. In this seminar, Dr. Safdar will cover "Why and how hospice care is so acceptable and helpful to terminally-ill people and their families."

"Establishing and organizing a program from the ground level," and where Hospice of Madison County is now at in-patient care."

He will relate a few personal stories and then the goal for coming years.

Committee to study 'lack of communications' within the Madison school district

Two members of the Madison Board of Education who have expressed displeasure with what they contend is a failure by the administration to inform the board of problems in the district have volunteered to be on a three-member committee to study communications within the Madison School District.

Mrs. Billie Bosworth, a board member, openly criticized the administration at Thursday night's board of education meeting, saying she has been getting complaints from parents about shortages of textbooks for some students, and the administration had failed to tell the board there was a problem.

She opposed granting raises to the administrators, but Board President Sam Dymas said he did not feel he would be fair to deny raises to the administrators until the source of the communications failures can be resolved. Board Member Richard Dymas suggested that the fault for the shortage of textbooks for all students be the communications problem between the teachers and the principals, who have to order the textbooks.

Board Member Don Garrett said he also believes there is a lack of communications, but did not believe the problem should affect pay raises, at this time.

Garrett, Mrs. Bosworth and Board Member Richard Zeissel volunteered to serve on the committee to study communications within the district. The board then approved pay raises for administration, as well as all other non-teaching staff members. The teachers previously negotiated a working agreement, which is in effect.

Second eye donor

Chester Dean, 64, of 4204 E. Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach, who died Tuesday, Sept. 2, was the second Quad-City resident registered in the Lions Club eye donor program, initiated in August of 1979, to donate his eyes.

According to a Lions Club official, there is a critical shortage of eye tissue. Such tissue is used for corneal transplants and for medical research and education.

All three Lions Clubs in Pontoon Beach, Granite City and Madison are participating in the program.

Mr. Dean was a past president of the Pontoon Beach Lions Club.

Within six hours after death his eyes are removed by special trained staff members of SEMC and then transported to an Eye Bank at Barnes Hospital by local Lions Club members.

Anyone wishing information on the Lions of Illinois Eye Donor Registry may obtain information by contacting any member of Lions International.

Burglar takes coins, jewelry

Entry into the dwelling was gained by forcing a storm door and breaking a glass pane in the front door to reach the lock inside.

An inventory of missing items had yet to be completed.

Eyes up! when you work near power lines

Overhead power lines carry a lot of electric current. When you're working or playing outdoors, the first safety rule is "Eyes up!" If there's a power line around, treat it with respect. A metal ladder, a metal pole, a grain auger or a tree trimmer can become a conductor when they touch a power line. If you're on the other end, the consequences could be serious, possibly fatal.

For the same reasons, don't fly kites or model planes near power lines. And please note this: almost any object—wood, plastic or rubber—can become a conductor when it's wet.

For outdoor safety it's "eyes up" when there's a power line nearby.

Drive for multi-bank company law in state next year

The fight for major banking changes in the state will be led by the chief executive officer of an East St. Louis bank.

Charles L. Daily, of Belleville, has been elected chairman of the Association for Modern Banking in Illinois (AMBI), a group supporting multi-bank holding company legislation.

His election took place this week in Chicago during the 1980 annual meeting of the 270-member association. It represents over 70 percent of the total banking assets of the state.

Upon taking office, in the one-year voluntary position, Daily said, "Illinois banks will continue to be at a decided disadvantage because they will not be able to offer the full services of banking to their customers which are offered in other states. If holding company legislation is not passed by the end of 1981."

Daily is chairman of the board of the MidAmerica Bank and Trust Co. of Edgemoor, in East St. Louis, and affiliated banks in Alton, Carbondale, Fairview Heights, Lebanon, Mascoutah. He is also chairman of MidAmerica Bancservices, a service organization performing audit and investment advisory services for the affiliated banks.

Daily added, "The banks in our organization are competing for consumer business with such financial and business organizations as Merrill Lynch, Sears, Roebuck, savings and loan associations, credit unions and others."

"Our policy is not to stifle competition, but to promote banking expertise and banking structure changes so that we can more adequately compete in all financial areas."

"Illinois, West Virginia and Oklahoma are the only states which do not permit some form of either branch banking or multi-bank holding companies."

"As of Dec. 30, 1980, nationally, NOW accounts (negotiable orders of withdrawal) will be offered. Therefore, savings and loan associations and credit unions will be in a position to 'basically perform' the same functions for the consumer as the banks."

"Multi-bank legislation is not branch banking. House Bill 1299, supported by AMBI during this year's session of the General Assembly, allows a bank to affiliate or remain independent."

"Branch banking would allow banks to set up bank buildings wholly owned and controlled by the branching bank without the approval of a competing bank's officers."

"Under HB 1299, the basic management setup would remain intact, with a local board of directors and local control."

"The goals of the bank would remain the same, a community-oriented operation which would be able to offer full service banking to customers. Assets would be used for the further development of the city in which it is located."

HB 1299 passed the Illinois House during the spring session, but was tabled by the Senate Finance and Credit Regulations Committee.

Its chief sponsors are Rep. Jim McPike (D-Alton), Sen.

George Sangmeister (D-Joliet), Sen. Jerome Joyce (D-Reddick) and Sen. Prescott Bloom (R-Peoria). Basic features of HB 1299 are:

—Banks would be allowed to affiliate under common ownership through a multi-bank holding company. Illinois presently allows only one-bank holding companies.

—Five holding company regions would be established.

—A holding company could acquire banks only within the company's home region and one contiguous region.

—A multi-bank holding company could not charter any new (de novo) banks.

—After the date of enactment, newly chartered banks could not be acquired until they have been in existence for ten years.

—The legislation also provides for one additional limited-service facility. It allows a bank an additional facility for a total of three. Banks are presently allowed two facilities, one within 1,500 feet and another within 3,500 yards of the bank.

—The third limited-service facility could not be established closer than one mile from the home office of another bank.

Reagan meetings in area this week, canvass on Oct. 4

The 23rd Congressional District Reagan-Bush director, Robert Hohn, has announced that Republicans and Reagan-Bush campaign leaders will gather at three locations in the district starting tomorrow, Sept. 9, to plan a massive door-to-door drive in October.

Hohn said a special feature of the meeting will be a videotaped message from former Governor Ronald Reagan, and other Republican leaders urging supporters to participate in the program, called commitment '80.

"We're making a commitment to reach into the neighborhoods of America to get Republican voters and to persuade those who haven't made up their minds," Hohn said. "The purpose of the meeting is to explain the program and form a leadership group."

Hohn said about 50 Republican Party and Reagan-Bush leaders will attend the meetings.

"We will be planning further activities, including a large number of small, in-home gatherings on Saturday, Sept. 13, when Gov. Reagan will make a nationwide broadcast appeal to urge people to become involved in the Commitment '80 canvass to be held on Oct. 4," Hohn added.

"As governor of California and throughout his public career, Ronald Reagan has demonstrated a unique ability to motivate people to work for the principles he represents. I believe that people are going to be the difference in this campaign."

Tomorrow's locations are: Edwardsville, First Federal Savings and Loan Association, 7:30 p.m.; Belleville, Reagan-Bush Headquarters, 7 p.m.; Wednesday, Sept. 10, at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant, East Alton.

Contact people for these commitment '80 programs are Helmut Bruggman for Edwardsville, Art Williams for East Alton and Jim Crain for Belleville.

Sees computers at area schools and new growth era at university

By MARY BRASE
"SUE has always been a place for people with vision. That's why we all came." John Schnabel says after 23 years at the Alton, East St. Louis and Edwardsville campuses of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. "It is still that kind of place, but it needs to get going again."

Schnabel, who can list a number of SUE firsts after his name, was writing his final report before retiring. He sat in the stark, white computer education laboratory, surrounded by a part of every classroom and education system in the nation in the next 20 years. "Teachers are learning how to use the small computers and have asked for them in Wood River, Red Bud, New Athens and Belleville," he said. "When the computers are hooked up to cable TV, you will be able to dial and get information. It will be a library at your fingertips."

The education professor said computers are now used in tutorial and gifted programs in schools but he sees no limit to the possibilities.

"Instead of sitting in front of TVs, kids are making instructional programs themselves," he said. "It is better than TV because you can do it on your own. You can manipulate something. And the answers come back in graphics and colors."

Schnabel helped open SUE as the local university's first registrar and director of admissions and student affairs.

"What a conglomeration of things," he admits now, but the triple job lasted only through the first enrollment period in the fall of 1957.

"We got about 2,000 students when we expected 800," he said. The registrar's job was the only one he kept; it took as much time as he had available.

Two years later, Schnabel remembers registering students in a little brick house in the middle of a corn field of Edwardsville. It was the first office on the new 2,600-acre campus that began classes in 1960.

"That's when we got shot at," he said. "We came in one morning and found rifle fire had hit the typewriter and broken a picture window."

While they waited for the new campus registration and records stayed with Schnabel in Edwardsville, and the students and the classes stayed in Alton and East St. Louis.

"The new buildings weren't open, and we didn't have the slightest idea when they would be built on academics."

"I can't be built in any other way. We have a good faculty, an excellent faculty. We can make it the kind of university parents want their children to attend."

After 23 years, Schnabel can point to one lasting success:

"According to the demographic population of this campus, only two to three percent of the area high school graduates were going to college. Within a few years after we opened, that shot up to 50 percent."

Many in area await kidneys

Transplant or dialysis. These are the choices facing a person in the area with severe kidney disease, says Jacqueline S. Elkin, RN, BSN, transplant coordinator of the Regional Transplant Association and speaker for an upcoming St. Louis University Medical Center conference on transplantation.

Approximately 5,000 kidney transplant operations are performed each year in the U.S., she relates. "Yet, as many as 14,000 persons still spend between 12 and 24 hours a week on an artificial kidney machine, while waiting for a donor kidney. In this metropolitan area alone, 600 persons weekly undergo dialysis while 60 to 80 persons receive a kidney through transplantation each year. A transplant eliminates the need for the machine, usually providing a better quality of life for the recipient."

"Organ and Tissue Transplantation: The Donor, the Recipient and the Nurse," will seek to educate nurses about the benefits of transplantation and the need for organs.

Held Sept. 23 and 24 at the Burch Memorial Center, 20 N. Grand at Laclede, the conference is co-sponsored by the St. Louis U. School of Nursing, the Third District Missouri Nurses' Association and the Lifeline Organ Donor Registry.

The conference will update knowledge about the need for any procedures related to organ donation and transplantation including skin, middle ear, bone marrow and heart transplantation. Ethical and legal considerations will be discussed as well as the nurse's interaction with community resources, hospitals, the donor, the donor's family, the recipient and the recipient's family.

WALLET IS STOLEN

Mrs. Lavonda Holcomb, 3204 Kirkpatrick, returned home last week to find the screen open on a front window and her brown leather wallet missing from the top of a refrigerator. Taken were a $65 book of food stamps, a checkbook, photographs, driver's license and other personal papers.

Bus tours to river towns

Historic Pilgrimage '80, co-sponsored by the Landmarks Association of St. Louis and the Missouri Historical Society, will explore life beside the rivers Sept. 20-28.

Included in this week-long celebration of the river heritage will be a special lecture at the Art Museum, four day-long bus tours to towns on the Missouri and Mississippi Rivers, a walking tour of downtown St. Louis, and special exhibits and events at area historical sites.

A lecture at the Art Museum Sept. 23 will feature David Van Zanten, associate professor and chairman, Department of Art History, Northwestern University. Van Zanten will present "Beaux Arts Education of Louis Sullivan."

Guided bus tours to river communities will be offered Wednesday, Sept. 24, through Sat., Sept. 27. Scheduled are tours to Kimmiswick, Washington, Ste. Genevieve and Hannibal. Cost for each tour is $22, which includes lunch at a historic site.

On Sunday, Sept. 28, the association will conduct a walking tour. The tour will examine the styles, materials and building types which made St. Louis a national force in the development of commercial architecture. The cost is $5 per person.

Some grow less lonely with age

By CATHERINE MAUCK
Madison County
Home Economics Adviser
You can look forward to growing less lonely as you grow older, a five-year study has concluded. "I know it flies in the face of your stereotype," says Professor John C. Woodward of the University of Nebraska, "but older people are, by far, the least lonely people in the nation."

Dr. Woodward, dean of the university's college of home economics, bases his findings on personal interviews with over 1,000 rural and urban people in the Nebraska area. He explained his study's conclusions this way: "As a group, women are lonelier than men."

"Divorcees are among the loneliest people. Teenagers are lonelier than anybody. But Dr. Woodward, former chairman of the university's department of human development and the family, cautioned: "I'm not saying that loneliness does not occur among elderly persons, or that all teenagers and divorcees are lonely."

"However, the studies do indicate that, as a whole, the elderly population is the least lonely and high school seniors the most lonely. He believes high school students, especially seniors, are at a critical stage of life where many personal decisions concerning their future and their goals weigh heavily on them. The elderly, on the other hand, "aren't burdened with these pressures and can relax and derive great pleasure from the rewards of fulfillment and success they have created or of institutions they have helped to create."

He adds, "They experience great relief from the often overbearing demands on their time and from impassioned strivings and struggles. But it really depends on how the elderly perceive their situation. "If they feel they are going to be lonely, they will be. But if they maintain their own identity, and feel they are in control, they won't be lonely. "That's why we believe you shouldn't make the decision about placing elderly parents into a retirement home. Rather, let them make their own choice."

For the purposes of his study, Dr. Woodward defined loneliness as "a feeling of being alone and disconnected or alienated from positive persons, places or things."

He concluded that this universal state occurs in all stages of human development, diminishing with age except in times of crisis, such as divorce.

Among the factors contributing to loneliness, he cited discontentment, low income level and the season of the year.

"Our studies showed," he said, "that high school and college students, housewives, divorcees and never-married persons were more lonely if they were unhappy or discontented. "Financial factors affect your ability to do the things you would like to be doing; and if money isn't available, there's a good chance you'll be lonely."

"This was especially true among housewives and the elderly. Those with lower incomes were more lonely than those in the higher income categories."

Winter, he says, seems to be the loneliest season of the year, with housewives, never-marrieds and the elderly most affected. Meanwhile, Sunday is considered the loneliest day because, as many of those interviewed suggested, it is "unstructured" and a "day off" and if you aren't involved with your family on that day "you tend to be lonely."

GC to purchase playground equipment for Wilson Park

Armed with opinions from the federal revenue sharing office in Washington, D.C., and from the Illinois attorney general's office that it is legal for Granite City to expend revenue sharing funds for recreational purposes, the Granite City Council unanimously last week to purchase new playground equipment for Wilson Park.

Only one bid was received for the playground equipment and a contract was awarded to Miracle Recreational Equipment Co. for $11,970 for the swings, slide and combination recreational equipment.

The equipment will be placed in a new playground planned for Wilson Park. The township's contribution is part of an overall improvement program for the park being undertaken by the Granite City Park District.

The legality of the township expending federal grant funds for recreational uses was challenged last year by Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward. Granite City aldermen automatically are members of the town board of trustees, since the boundaries of the city and the township are identical.

Douglas notified federal and state authorities that he felt the expenditure by Granite City Township of funds for field lights at the Pehling Road sports complex and for bleachers at Granite City High School North violated the regulations controlling the use of revenue sharing funds.

Last month, legal opinions were received from the attorney general's office and from Richard S. Isen, acting chief counsel of the office of revenue sharing in Washington, which said the expenditures for the bleachers and for the field lights appear to be within the regulations regarding revenue sharing.

Tuesday night, on a motion by Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second

Ward, the council voted to put the full context of both Isen's letter and the letter from the state attorney general's office in the minutes of the council meeting.

They then accepted the bid for the playground equipment and for a fence behind Anchorage Homes.

Three bids for the fence were considered and a contract was awarded to Granite City Glass, the low bidder at $9,977.

Alderman Whitmer asked if the city would be liable for any accidents or injuries caused by the fence and Alderman Everett "Cherry" Morley of the First Ward said he did not feel there was any danger, since the fence will be behind the homes and not near the street, where it could be hit by a car.

Added emphasis on fuel conservation, development of state energy resources

A three-pronged state approach to the energy problem—fuel conservation, resource development and emergency preparedness—was outlined at last week's community prayer breakfast.

Speaker at the monthly gathering at Charlie's Restaurant, sponsored by Granite City Rotarians, was Larry Metzroth of Springfield, state director of the Illinois Energy Resources Commission. Larry Dew presided and prayers were offered by the Rev. Don Pierson.

Full public cooperation with energy conservation and development efforts is being encouraged by the 18-member commission, which includes State Rep. Everett Steele of this district. Among those present at the breakfast was State Rep. Sam Wolf of Granite City.

Describing the urgency of the issue, Metzroth noted that the United States is still importing 7,400,000 barrels of oil daily at a cost of $230 million.

"Each minute that I am speaking to you, another $160,000 is changing hands from American hands to those of foreign oil producers," he said in urging that all insulate their homes, participate in car pools, and take other steps to conserve energy use.

During a question and answer session following his talk, Metzroth said the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources is offering a wide range of publications and technical assistance in such fields as solar (sun) energy.

Included is the Illinois Solar Directory, containing lists of solar businesses and consultants in Illinois, plus federal and state incentives for installing solar systems.

Among the pamphlets is Solar Space Heaters for Low Income Families, a do-it-yourself manual for constructing and installing low-cost solar systems in homes.

Metzroth related that the Illinois Capital Development Board, with which he formerly was associated, has developed a comprehensive energy management plan for state buildings and facilities.

"At the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign," he said, "furnaces using 22 million gallons of No. 2 fuel oil annually are being converted to Illinois coal. This will save enough fuel to heat 22,000 homes, the equivalent of a community of the size of Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell."

"By the end of next month, the entire state fleet of autos will be converted to gasoline use. This will require 12,250,000 gallons of gasoline per year for the 9,200 vehicles and can help stimulate the development of this as a fuel competitive with gasoline."

"We have not yet been able to get most state government employees in Springfield to stop driving alone to work, but feel the solution will be reducing the number of free and handy parking spaces. We are recommending that the best parking areas be limited to car pool vehicles."

Metzroth said the Institute of Natural Resources has established a fuel hotline at 217-782-1986 and that energy information also is available at the hot line of the Lieutenant Governor's Senior Action Center program, 800-252-6565.

The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs operates an energy crisis assistance program that can be contacted at 800-252-8044. Among other services, the latter program provides up to $500 for energy bills of income eligible persons—those below 125 percent of the poverty guidelines.

The speaker distributed copies of a sample energy audit report of the kind that can help businesses discover additional ways of altering their heating, cooling, hot water and lighting systems to reduce energy consumption.

He concluded that while a non-mandatory approach is being utilized, much progress is being made and that principal reliance is, appropriately, being placed on responsible citizen action.

Autos damaged, light post down

When a left-turning bus blocked her path as she left a service station and as she tried to drive north on Nameoki Road at St. Clair Avenue, Cheryl Hutchings, 3013 Forest Ave., applied the brakes; her auto skidded sideways and knocked down a concrete Illinois Power Co. street light standard at 2:40 p.m. Thursday.

The westbound car of Sharon Morse, 2129 Bryn Mawr Ave., who was following the bus into the intersection, was struck by power wires as they fell from the damaged light post.

Mrs. Wofford and two passengers on the bus were not reported injured.

More join community colleges

SPRINGFIELD — Bad economic news was good enrollment news to public community colleges in Illinois this last summer, according to Dr. James Howard, interim executive director of the state's Community College Board.

Enrollments at the local community colleges rose sharply, with the increase largely a result of "a sagging economy and the resultant increase in unemployment," he said. Historically, Howard said, community college enrollments increase at the same time that unemployment rises. Enrollments also rose during the spring semester, he said, and enrollments are expected to continue high this fall on the community college campuses.

Head-count enrollments at the community colleges rose by 18.4 percent from the summer semesters of 1979, with full-time equivalent enrollment at 43,731 this year, compared to 37,770 in 1979.

Five colleges showed a decrease in summer enrollments from a year ago — Chicago City-Wide College, Wabash Valley, Rend Lake, State Community College and Lincoln Land. However, City-Wide and Wabash Valley are parts of multicollage systems which overall showed increases.

School bus auto collide

A collision at Nameoki and Pehling roads at 1:30 p.m. Friday between a Granite City district school bus and a 1972 station wagon resulted in Clarence Olsen, 2013 Lamar Ave. driver of the private vehicle, being taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Olsen, 63, whose vehicle was headed east across Nameoki Road, was treated for cuts to the head. He had x-rays taken and was released.

The school bus, turning left from Pehling Road into Nameoki Road, was operated by Kathleen E. Wofford of the 2500 block of Center Street.

Mrs. Wofford and two passengers on the bus were not reported injured.

PARKED CAR LOOTED

A $90 auto stereo radio and cassette player, four speakers worth a total of $75, and a $50 stereo booster were stolen from the parked auto of Jeff Kee, Rural Route 2, Thursday at Nameoki Road and Victory Drive. The burglar broke a window of the car.

BAC students up 14%; GC daytime enrollment up 20%

Belleville Area College enrollment is up. Overall, it appears there will be at least a 14 percent increase this fall.

The increase at the Granite City day campus at Washington School is even greater. Larry Schmalenberger, who directs the daytime program here, reports that the number of credit hours enrolled for this fall is 58.5 percent more than those during the fall of 1979.

Headcount enrollment increased 20 percent at the GC day instructional center. Twenty-six classes received enough enrollment to allow them to be taught at the BAC-Granite City extension. A minimum number of students is required before a scheduled class is allowed to run.

Schmalenberger said of the increase, "All in all, the numbers are encouraging to me."

Avery Schermer, BAC board member from Granite City, said, "We are gratified at the response of the community to the daytime program. This is just the beginning."

He added, "I know that as the demand for additional courses becomes known, the college will provide them in Granite City."

Schermer encouraged local residents to write or call college officials with suggestions for programs that they would like to see offered here.

Madison is given another year to integrate schools

The Illinois Board of Education Thursday officially granted the Madison School District a one-year extension in deadlines for meeting desegregation guidelines for Blair School.

The Madison Board of Education was unaware of the state board's action when the Madison board met Thursday night, but Superintendent of Schools John Paluchek told the board he had been assured that a recommendation to grant the extension would be given to the state board and it probably would be granted.

In taking the official action Thursday, the state board said the local officials seem to be making "a good faith effort," to comply with desegregation guidelines, but construction delays in the building of the new middle school made an extension necessary.

The state board indicated it would monitor the progress of the planning and progress, including the actions of the district's citizens' advisory committee on desegregation, during the year.

It also specified that kindergarten through grade three at Harris and Blair schools should be desegregated by September, 1981.

In other business, the board:

- Approved salary increases averaging 16 percent for all district employees, except the teachers, who approved a new working agreement with the district averaging the same increase.

Agreed to send the middle school principal, principal for grades four and five and the curriculum coordinator for the district to a seminar on illegal drugs, narcotics and alcohol abuse, being sponsored by the Southwest Illinois Law Enforcement Commission Oct. 30 at Roustio's Restaurant in Collinsville.

Approved a recommendation by Football Coach Al von der Haar to appoint Don Smith as assistant football coach at the high school.

Hired Sue Bornstein as a social worker for the district. She has worked with the Quad-City Mental Health Center and as a aide in psychology for the Venice School District.

Authorized Dan Kostelnik, principal of the high school, to attend the fall conference for principals of secondary schools in Chicago this fall.

Accepted the resignation of Betty Rogers, clerk at Harris School.

Accepted the bid of American Boiler Co., which will charge $11,289 to convert the boiler at the junior high school from burning coal to burning natural gas.

Sent about 10 of the district's cooks to a sanitation school offered by Belleville Area College. The class will be taught in Granite City. All cafeteria workers need state certification, by law.

Changed the date of the next meeting from Sept. 18 to Thursday, Sept. 25th for a public hearing on the tentative budget, which is being posted at the board office.

Awarded a contract to Sears Roebuck & Co. for a 21,000 BTU air conditioner for the high school. Sears was the low bidder of $449 of two bids received.

PURSE STOLEN
A rust colored leather purse containing $150 cash, two checkbooks and personal papers were stolen from the auto of Diana Durham, 24 Fontainebleau Drive, while she was visiting a friend in the 100 block of Briarhaven Drive at 8:30 p.m. Friday. The vehicle was parked in the driveway at the residence, she told police.

GC levy up $456,529

A new 1980-81 Granite City tax levy of $2,500,000—an increase of $456,529 over last year—has been approved by the City Council for tax billing next year.

The levy was approved by the city council over the objections of some aldermen, who contended that they were not given sufficient time to study the document.

The deadline for passage is Sept. 15, which is before the next council meeting, so Mayor Paul Schuler told the council either to pass it at the last meeting or call for a special meeting to consider it. The aldermen then approved it on an 11-2 vote.

The new levy is based on a record city budget of $14,399,217, including projected expenditures for the current fiscal year on the city's new downtown overpass now under construction.

Last year's extension was $2,043,471. The levy calls for tax extensions totaling $2,162,500 in the city's special accounts and $337,500 in general funds for the total of $2.5 million.

The levy document shows the city anticipates $10,368,444 in the general fund and other accounts.

The 1979-80 tax levy under which tax bills are being paid currently called for $1,881,227 in the special fund accounts and $162,244 in the general fund, along with $9,010,000 projected in revenue from sources other than taxation.

On this basis, the new 1980-81 levy represents an increase of $281,273 in the levy for special accounts and an increase of $175,256 in the levy for the general fund.

The levy follows the budget exactly, David Nolan, administrative aide to the mayor, told the aldermen. Schuler added, "It can't exceed the budget, by law."

Alderman Paul Fisk, chairman of the ordinance committee, read the document and then suggested it be put on first reading and a special meeting be called for Sept. 12 to pass it. "No one has seen it before tonight," Fisk noted.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward agreed, saying, "Dave just got it out and we have had no chance to study."

Schuler said he would be willing to call a special meeting, but said he did not feel it was necessary, since the levy follows the budget exactly and the aldermen had plenty of time to study the budget, which was adopted in July.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward asked what the levy will do to residential tax bills, and Schuler responded, "Percentage-wise, about the same as the average taxpayer paid the previous year, unless the legislature passes some more exceptions. We have no control over that."

A vote then was taken and only Aldermen Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward and Charles Douglas of the First Ward voted against its final passage. Alderman Margaret Nomm was absent from the meeting.

CAR-BUS ACCIDENT at 1:30 p.m. Friday at Nameoki and Fehling roads, resulted in injuries to the driver of the station wagon at the left. The driver of the bus, Kathleen Wofford of Granite City, is in the center, being questioned about the accident, as tow-trucks remove the wreckage. Two 16-year-old passengers on the bus escaped injury.

State still in running for space telescope

By RAY SERATI

SPRINGFIELD — Illinois is still in the running for a highly advanced outer-space telescope and state officials are busily sending additional information to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) in an effort to win final approval of the site which is in the running is located at the Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory near Batavia. It is one of three finalists with the other two being at Johns Hopkins University in Maryland and the other at Princeton University in New Jersey.

What would actually be constructed at the Batavia site would be a tracking station where the information would be sent. The Batavia site has been termed an excellent by some because of its proximity to higher education institutions.

The space satellite telescope would hitch a ride into orbit on a space shuttle which is to go up in 1983. It would then report the findings back to the Fermi Laboratory in Batavia.

"We are very much encouraged about Illinois' possibilities," Commerce and Community Affairs Department Director John W. Castle told Copley News Service.

"At the present time we are trying to raise some local funds that could be used as a type of endowment fund at the laboratory," Castle said.

"We understand that Johns Hopkins has about some $2 million and Princeton about $1.5 million in a similar fund," Castle said.

He said NASA officials recently visited the Batavia site again. They had visited the site earlier in the year.

"We are still trying to supply NASA officials with more information," Castle said.

It is anticipated that such a facility would have a budget of about $5 million or $6 million.

Illinois is running high as a possible site, Castle said, because of institutions of higher learning, the scientific community in the state and other research projects located in the state.

Such a tracking center could become the center for astronomy. It will also aid scientists in viewing and analyzing radiation and light rays in space prior to the earth's atmosphere.

Castle could give no indication as to how soon a final decision would be made by NASA.

The race to locate the site has been on for some time. Illinois' proposal to locate the center at Fermi Lab covers about five volumes.

Computers helping livestock producers

By CHARLYN FARGO

SPRINGFIELD — Computers took the work out of preparing many farmers' cash flow sheets several years ago. But a new kind of computer now is helping livestock producers — with their herds and to produce new breeds.

A computer can almost tell researchers that a certain cow is going to get sick according to E.F. Oliver of the University of Illinois' agricultural engineering department.

"We can't really do that, but we can find out almost as soon as it happens," Oliver said.

Researchers are trying to improve dairy production by using a "management by exception" technique that identifies cows that need special attention before they become sick.

Larger dairy herds have created the need for the computer, because a herdsman can give individual attention only to so many animals. However, bigger herds usually mean bigger profits.

"It costs dairy producers who have more than 80 cows about 40 cents to produce 100 pounds of milk than smaller producers," said Del Wilken, U of I Extension agricultural economist.

The computer collects, stores and analyzes data on the production and health of each cow, increasing the efficiency of dairy operation.

Specifically, the computer keeps the cow's identity, feed consumption, milk conductivity, temperature and weight. Animals that vary from the norm are singled out for extra attention.

The program also is useful for dairy farmers because milk production is so sensitive to the work routine and decisions of the herdsman.

"Without computers to collect production and health data, animals begin to lose their identity in large herds and a sick cow may not be noticed right away," Oliver said.

In the U of I study, 20 heifers have been implanted with transponders. Each time an animal drinks water, an optical switch signals the animal's presence, and the cow's identification and temperature are just beneath the hide are recorded.

The temperature just beneath the hide approaches deep body temperature when the animal has a fever, which helps determine its health. The study also seeks to determine if other correlations can be drawn from the skin temperature and management problems.

Feeding is done automatically. Thanks to a thin disk around each cow's neck, the control system electronically dispenses the correct amount of feed to each animal. The number of visits and the amount of time spent in the stalls also are recorded.

Initial tests have shown the ingestion rate is 50 percent higher when the feed bowl is similar in shape to a cow's jaw.

The research project is funded by the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A computer also has been used to develop a new Australian sheep breed, according to a recent newsletter of the Australian Information Service.

Ian Downie, a Tasmanian breeder, developed a new breed called the Cormo, then tested his theory on the sheep.

Thompson, Stevenson have a future as political leaders

By KEN WATSON

SPRINGFIELD — Regardless of the outcome of the Nov. 4 presidential election, there is a feeling across the American political spectrum that the next four years will see the development of a new generation of political leaders.

President Jimmy Carter, if re-elected, would be limited by the Constitution to serving only that term.

Ronald Reagan, if elected, would be 73 at the close of his term, and there is a consensus in politics that he would serve no more than four years as president.

It is significant for Illinois that two of its best known political figures are already being mentioned in speculation about the future. Gov. James R. Thompson and outgoing U.S. Sen. Adlai Stevenson are frequently mentioned in national speculation about political leaders of the future.

The Thompson-Stevenson speculation has a uniqueness of its own. For the two may well be on a collision course with one or the other destined by the course of events to fail by the wayside before the search for 1984 presidential hopefuls begins in earnest.

A Thompson-Stevenson confrontation for governor two years from now is a growing possibility.

Thompson, who has long been of the opinion that running for public office is a full-time job and one that cannot be deferred until some weeks or months before an election, has been practicing this philosophy with vigor. The governor's daily activity at the Illinois State Fair was vivid evidence of how he adheres to his own rule.

Some Capitol critics, taking note of Big Jim's fairgrounds ranging, quipped there was a question as to who is off to the fastest start for the next election —

Teddy Kennedy or the gov. But Thompson did not get this far in politics without knowing what he is doing, and since becoming governor he has sharpened his political savvy and technique to a remarkable degree. He knows that tough times are ahead for state government for the next two years and that no governor can expect to be re-elected unless he has acquired a broad personal following.

While Thompson's major problem in advancing his assumed White House ambitions is to gain re-election, Stevenson faces a more basic and tougher problem. Before he can run for governor he will have to persuade Illinois Democrats to nominate him. That won't be easy.

There has long been an inclination among national commentators to presume that because of his political name and heritage Stevenson is a cinch to be accepted by his party for any office he might choose. But that is a presumption open to challenge and especially under existing circumstances.

A sharp contrast from the gregarious Thompson, the aloof Stevenson has disappointed many Illinois Democrats and alienated more than a few. Carter, Democrats are angry at his deprecating of the president. Other Democratic regulars are unhappy that he left the party in danger of losing its sole Illinois Senate seat by deciding not to run this year.

There are a lot of Democrats who feel that others besides Stevenson should be considered to head their ticket.

Among Democratic leaders known to be interested in the governorship are Senate President Phil Rock, State Treasurer Jerry Costantino and State Comptroller Roland Burris. There is also the possibility that should Secretary of State Adlai Dixon lose out in his bid for the U.S. Senate because of a Republican landslide, he might want to try a political comeback in 1982 as a candidate for governor.

A Thompson-Stevenson battle for governor would indeed be a national story in 1982 with potential significance for the next presidential race two years hence. But as far as Stevenson and the Democrats are concerned, the cast for the big show is far from complete.

IN LOVING memory of BRUCE WYATT who passed away five years ago Sept. 8, 1975. We often sit and think of him when we are all alone, for memory is the only friend that grief can tell its own. I cry on. I wish I could be wither oak, when all other things decay, our love for him will still keep green, and never fade away. — Sadly missed by Mom and Dad, 32 9 8

Tips for homeowners on maintaining gas furnaces

It will come as no surprise that the cost of heating a home will be more this winter than last. Tips from Amana Refrigeration, Inc., a leading manufacturer of home heating and cooling equipment, can help cut as much as 10 percent on home heating bills without sacrificing comfort.

One of the biggest users of fuel in any home is the furnace. In 1979 three out of four furnaces sold were gas fueled. The key to maintaining the efficiency of the home furnace is regular attention to a few simple maintenance procedures.

Clean or replace the filter

The most important step is to regularly clean or replace the air filter. Permanent filters should be cleaned at least once a season and checked periodically. Replaceable filters should be changed once a month during the heating season.

According to Richard Prendergast, manager of heating and cooling products for Amana, "The furnace will run hotter with dirty filters because less air is passing over the heat exchanger. The hotter the system runs, the more heat losses there are to the surroundings and up the flue."

Clean air registers

Another routine maintenance procedure is cleaning air registers (including the return air register).

Restricted air flow causes a build-up of pressure in the home heating system, leading to heat loss and more work for the furnace fan motor.

Besides saving energy, these routine chores will extend the life of a furnace and help reduce costly repair bills.

Regular maintenance can reduce service calls

Amana's vice president of customer service, Dave Moore, has found, "About 10 percent of all service calls are unnecessary. The equipment has a problem in these cases because it hasn't received normal maintenance."

"The price of service calls average about $35 to $50, depending on the area. The consumer can save these costs if they normally maintain the product."

When service is necessary,

Amana recommends that the homeowner save money by simply describing the problem and leaving the technician alone. Prolonging his visit will result in higher service costs.

A qualified technician will adjust the pilot light, check burner temperature, fuel pressure, electrical parts and proper voltage supply.

Check energy efficiency when buying furnace

If you find that your furnace needs to be replaced, there is a bright side. Many of today's new models feature electronic ignition that can save considerable energy costs over older, pilot-light models.

The FTC also requires that "Energy Guide" labels be affixed by manufacturers to home heating products, including furnaces.

These labels advise the homeowner to see the furnace dealer's "Energy Guide." This booklet compares the energy efficiency of a particular furnace with other similarly sized furnaces available on the market.

Further, the consumers can estimate the annual cost of operation for the furnace. Even though high efficiency furnaces may have a higher price tag, its lower cost of operation can result in an overall cost saving during the life of the product.

In short, it pays the homeowner to perform regular maintenance to keep the furnace running efficiently and dependably. When a service call is required, let a qualified technician do the work.
